HOROSCOPE

MARCH 26 - APRIL 1, 2025

ARIES (Mar. 21 - April 20)

Momentum starts to feel more intentional rather than reactive. What once required effort now moves with a clearer rhythm. Focus on refining your approach instead of chasing more. Smart adjustments strengthen your position.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)

Recent patience begins to pay off as progress becomes more visible. A situation that felt uncertain starts to settle into place. Stay grounded in your decisions without second-guessing. Confidence grows through consistency.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)

Clarity continues to unfold, especially in conversations that once felt unclear. What's said now carries more weight, so choose your words carefully. Lean into honesty without over-explaining. Direct communication moves things forward.

CANCER (June 22 - July 22)

Balance becomes easier to maintain as priorities shift into better alignment. You may find yourself saying no more often - and feeling good about it. Protect your time and energy. Stability follows clear boundaries.

LEO (July 23 - Aug 22)

Creative and personal energy builds in a way that feels both exciting and manageable. Opportunities may come from unexpected places. Stay open, but remain selective. The right move won't require you to force it.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 23)

A sense of order returns as lingering distractions begin to clear. Tasks that once felt overwhelming now feel approachable. Break things down and handle them one step at a time. Progress comes through steady focus.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)

Relationships continue evolving as communication becomes more natural. There's less need to explain and more room for understanding. Let conversations flow without overthinking them. Ease replaces tension.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)

Timing plays a bigger role this week than usual. Waiting for the right moment proves more effective than pushing for immediate results. Stay observant and move with intention. Precision gives you the edge.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 21)

Motivation rises as something that once felt routine becomes more engaging. You may rediscover interest in a goal or idea you set aside. Follow that spark. Renewed energy drives progress.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22 - Jan. 20)

Responsibility and direction align more clearly, making decisions feel easier to navigate. Others may look to you for guidance. Stay steady without taking on more than necessary. Leadership comes through balance.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)

Perspective shifts again, but this time with a clearer sense of direction. What once felt uncertain now has a path forward. Stay adaptable while committing to your next step. Movement builds confidence.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar. 20)

Financial or practical matters begin to feel more manageable as clarity replaces hesitation. A small decision could have a larger impact than expected. Move thoughtfully rather than quickly. Stability grows from intention.

A Weekly Guide to Health Awareness

YOGA POSE OF THE WEEK - Warrior II (Virabhadrasana II)

Unlike Warrior I, the hips face the side of the mat in Warrior II. The hips and shoulders are open to the side when moving from Warrior I to Warrior II. You'll also rotate your back foot, angling your toes at about 90 degrees. In both Warrior poses, aim to keep your front knee stacked over the ankle. Your front toes face forward.

VITAMIN HIGHLIGHT - Chromium

You only need a trace amount of this mineral, which is believed to help keep your blood sugar levels steady. Most adults easily get enough by eating foods like broccoli, English muffins, and garlic. You may see chromium supplements that promise to help you lose weight, but there's no scientific evidence to back up those claims.

International Whiskey Day is a yearly celebration on March 27. "The water of life" or 'uisce na beatha' in Gaelic, is the term given to whiskey by the Gaelic language. Soon after, the name was shortened to 'uisce' (meaning 'water'), and the pronunciation gradually shifted from 'ish-key' to 'whiskey.' Since then, the pronunciation has stayed the same. Whiskey has a long and distinguished history of careful distillation, dating back more than 500 years. When it comes to whiskey, there's no better way to bring people together than to have a few glasses and make some amazing memories. Today is the ideal opportunity for whiskey fans to indulge with a high-end bottle and some friends.

History of International Whiskey Day

The history of International Whiskey Day is closely linked to the history of the drink. Distillation is a chemical process that has been around since Babylon. First, the 'mash' is made by heating grain and water to convert starch into sugars. This is because the type of grain used in the distillation process determines the final whiskey. Thus, the wort is the first step in this magnificent drink's life. Also, maturing inside a barrel is common. The time spent aging is worth it.

In Mesopotamia in 2000 B.C., the first evidence of distillation was found. To make pure drinking water from seawater, Alexander of Aphrodisias distilled it around 100 A.D. Before 1100, when monks journeying to Scotland fermented grain mash and manufactured the first instance of whiskey, distillation processes existed. The first official mention of whiskey as a distilled product was in 1405.

The first mention of the annual International Whiskey Day dates back to the year 2008. The International Whiskey Day was created in 2009 at the Whisky Festival Northern Netherlands. To honor the departed Michael James Jackson, the great whiskey writer, the International Whiskey Day was born. To commemorate the birthday of Michael James Jackson, who was born on March 27, 1942, the date has been meticulously picked. English writer and journalist Michael Jackson wrote numerous books on beer and whiskey. He was well-known for his knowledge of malt whiskey as well as his knowledge of beer.

Michael Jackson is well-known for his whiskey reviews. He has graded his whiskeys on a scale of zero to 100, with a score of 75 indicating that it is worth buying. For all the attention he received as a beer writer, his accomplishments in the whiskey industry much outweigh his influence in the beer sector. He was one of the most significant whiskey writers since Alfred Barnard. His accomplishments were widely acknowledged, and he was given the honorary title "Master of the Quaich." As a result, his whiskey books sold incredibly quickly, and his tastings were always sold out. He had a profound impact on the development of single malt whiskey around the world. All of the work that goes into organizing International Whiskey Day is done by whiskey enthusiasts from throughout the world.

International Whiskey Day Activities

- Discover a new whiskey to savor - Gather with a group of friends and share your favorite whiskey, as well as some new ones you've discovered. For example, look at these: Scotch Whisky, Irish Whiskey, Canadian Whiskey, Bourbon Whiskey, or Japanese Whiskey are all excellent choices.
- Read about our favorite whiskey - Whether you have a favorite brand or type of whiskey, you can always read about them. Some brands have very interesting histories while some types are made using a specific history. Whichever one you choose, you are going to learn some intriguing things, preferably as you are taking a sip from it.
- Give a newcomer a taste of whiskey - A great way to celebrate is to introduce whiskey to someone who has never sipped it before. There are a lot of people who have never tried whiskey and don't know how to appreciate it. Select one of them, pour a glass, and introduce them to one of the finer things in life.

5 Interesting Facts About Whiskey

- 1 - Beer ferments into whiskey - 'Wort' is the 'beer' that is distilled into whiskey; when it comes to brewing, the wort is made up of water, yeast, and malts, just like a cold beer, and is also used to keep unwanted pests at bay.
- 2 - Oldest whiskey in the world - The oldest whiskey, according to "Guinness World Records," believed to have been packaged between 1851 and 1858, is the 400ml bottle of Glenavon Special Liqueur Whisky which was owned by an Irish family until it was auctioned off to Bonhams in London and sold for a remarkable £14,850.
- 3 - The most expensive whiskey - Macallan's 'M' Whisky was sold at auction in Hong Kong for £393,109, making it the most expensive brand of this spirit in the world with more than half the whiskey in the elegant decanter distilled in Spanish oak sherry casks between the 1940s and 1990s.
- 4 - The angel's share - Each year, about 2% of the whiskey in the barrels is lost to evaporation and in some cultures, this is referred to as the "angel's share."
- 5 - Prohibition - During Prohibition, whiskey would have been outlawed had it not been for a medical loophole but it wasn't prohibited because of legislation allowing doctors to prescribe whiskey as medication.

Why We Love International Whiskey Day

- It's a classy drink - No one can deny that whiskey is one of the classiest alcohols enjoyed by millions all over the world. True whiskey connoisseurs' palates have long been shaped by the distinct flavor of whiskey, one of the most famous classic hot drinks.
- There's a community of whiskey lovers - There is a community of people who love whiskey and are proud to be a member of such a community. For the whiskey lovers, it tells a story of their favorite drink and how they entered the iconic world of whiskey and it is a great story to share with people you see who enjoy a sip of whiskey as much as you do.
- It's the drink of confident people - Whiskey has been touted as the drink of those who are confident in their abilities. It is a beloved drink that has been enjoyed over the years by kings and everyone.

Late March in Philadelphia always feels like a handoff. The Sixers and Flyers are still playing games that matter, the Union are trying to keep an ugly start from deepening, and the Phillies are finally done rehearsing. By Thursday afternoon, Citizens Bank Park will go from spring-training talk to Opening Day noise, and that is when the city's sports calendar really starts to tilt toward baseball.

76ers

Last Thursday in Sacramento gave the Sixers their best offensive night of this stretch, a 139-118 win over the Kings powered by V.J. Edgecombe's 38 points and 11 assists. Justin Edwards added 32 points and Quentin Grimes scored 27, and for one night the patchwork version of this team looked explosive instead of thin. Philadelphia followed that up Saturday in Utah with another win, this one 126-116, as Grimes scored 25 and Edgecombe finished with 22 points and 13 rebounds. Monday night back at home was much tougher. Oklahoma City beat the Sixers 123-103, and although Edgecombe scored a game-high 35 points, the Thunder controlled the night early and never really let Philadelphia settle in.

The next game that counts for this stretch is Saturday at Charlotte at 6 p.m., and you can catch that on NBC Sports Philadelphia locally, with NBA League Pass carrying it out of market. From there, the Sixers head to Miami on Monday at 7 p.m., with coverage on NBC Sports Philadelphia, and then go to Washington next Wednesday at 7 p.m., again on NBC Sports Philadelphia locally. At this point, the formula is pretty clear: the offense has shown it can erupt, but Philadelphia needs enough defensive consistency to make these road games mean something bigger than another strong box score.

Flyers

The Flyers actually played some of their best hockey of the recent stretch before last Tuesday's stumble. They opened it with a 4-3 shootout win in Los Angeles on Thursday, then followed with a convincing 4-1 win in San Jose on Saturday. In that Sharks game, Owen Tippett scored his 24th goal, Christian Dvorak got the go-ahead power-play marker early in the third, and Dan Vladar made 24 saves as Philadelphia kept itself relevant in the playoff chase. Tuesday back at home against Columbus felt like the kind of game they had to bank, and they didn't. The Blue Jackets beat the Flyers 3-2, with Sean Couturier and Jamie Drysdale scoring for Philadelphia before Columbus got the winner from Mason Marchment.

Next up is Thursday at home against Chicago at 7 p.m., with the game airing on NBC Sports Philadelphia and streaming on ESPN+. The Flyers then go to Detroit on Saturday at 8 p.m. for a game on ABC, return home for Dallas on Sunday at 7 p.m. on NBC Sports Philadelphia and ESPN+, and head to Washington on Tuesday at 7 p.m., also on NBC Sports Philadelphia and ESPN+. They are still close enough in the standings for these games to matter, but this is the point in the season where decent efforts are not enough by themselves.

Phillies

The Phillies spent the final days of camp looking like a team ready to leave Florida. They beat Tampa Bay 8-2 on Thursday, played Detroit to a 4-4 tie on Friday, then lost 10-8 to Baltimore on Saturday, 6-2 to the Yankees on Sunday, and 7-0 to the Rays on Monday. Spring results only tell you so much, but by the end of camp the bigger story was that the club had reached the point where roster talk gives way to the real thing.

Opening Day is Thursday, March 26 at 4:15 p.m. against the Rangers, with coverage on NBC Sports Philadelphia and NBC10. All fans will receive a 2025 NL East Champions pennant. The opening series continues Saturday at 4:05 p.m. on NBCSP+, then Sunday at 1:35 p.m. on NBC Sports Philadelphia, when all fans get a 2026 schedule magnet. The Nationals come in next, with games Monday and Tuesday at 6:40 p.m. on NBCSP+, followed by a Wednesday matinee at 1:05 p.m. on NBC Sports Philadelphia and NBC10. Opening Day is presented by Nemours Children's Health, but the main attraction is the same one it always is: the first real game of the year in South Philadelphia, with a full park and a season finally underway.

Union

The Union are still searching for a foothold. Last Wednesday, they went to Mexico City and played Club América to a 1-1 draw, but that result still ended their run in the Concacaf Champions Cup after the first-leg loss at home. Then on Saturday, they dropped another MLS game, falling 2-1 to the Chicago Fire at Subaru Park. Milan Iloski scored Philadelphia's only goal, but the bigger takeaway was the same one that has followed this team through March: too many matches where the moments are there, but the points are not.

There is no Union game in the immediate days ahead, but their next league match is Saturday, April 4 at Charlotte at 7:30 p.m., and, like every MLS match, it will stream on Apple TV's MLS Season Pass. The club badly needs the break to reset before the standings start to feel less temporary and more telling.

The Week Ahead

That is what makes this stretch feel so specific across the city. The Sixers still have enough offense to make things interesting, but they need road wins. The Flyers still have enough life to stay relevant, but they need points, not just close games. The Union need answers more than they need optimism. And the Phillies, finally, are at the point where nobody has to project anymore — the gates start Thursday, the gates open, the pennants come out, and baseball takes its turn at center stage.

NUTRITION, WEIGHT LOSS & FITNESS

SUMMER BODY READY

Whether you want a beach body transformation for this summer or are just looking to get into better shape overall, paying attention to your health and fitness is always a good idea. Getting your body ready for summer can be more difficult for some than it is for others, and actual body transformations require some planning, commitment and sacrifice. Should you wait for summer, it may be more challenging to achieve a body that is beach-ready. Overall, fitness should not just be a goal, but a lifestyle, as working out and dieting the right way directly ties to numerous health benefits. Making a decision to make some changes and feel confident in your body shape for the summer may begin with a simple question — "Where do I start?" Probably the most important aspect of getting that summer body is cutting out the junk and sticking to a balanced and healthy diet. While dieting tactics like not eating or using meal replacement shakes may work for short-term weight loss, it is extremely difficult to keep that weight off once your summer body diet is over. Instead, focus on more sustainable and regular dieting habits that will lead to long-term weight loss and health. When most people think of how to get in shape for summer, they often forget one of the most important elements — sleep! Getting seven to nine hours of sleep is essential for helping you reach your summer body, as a lack of sleep can slow down the process of getting in shape. When you don't get enough sleep, the hunger hormones, ghrelin and leptin, become imbalanced. While weighing yourself is one of the most popular methods for tracking fitness goals, taking these numbers with a grain of salt is important. Your body weight changes daily, depending on whether you've gained or lost muscle mass or water weight. While your body is still subject to fluctuations, weighing yourself at the same time each morning can help you get a better idea of your progress.

FROM THE HEART OF ATLANTIC COUNTY MAGAZINE

What to Read in March

I Came Back for You by Kate White

New York Times bestselling author Kate White writes intoxicating psychological thrillers that have earned her wide critical acclaim and a legion of devoted fans. Her latest thriller, I Came Back for You, centers on a mother who is forced to question everything she's been told about the heinous murder of her daughter, which opens scarcely healed emotional wounds as she searches for justice and the truth. Book clubs will devour this novel with themes of trauma, grief and the complexity of relationships.

Kissing The Sky by Lisa Patton

Suzannah is a gifted young singer whose strict father bans rock music in the home. Ready for something more, she sneaks off with her best friend to attend Woodstock, and those three days of music, love and revelations will transform her. This coming-of-age story, set in the backdrop of one of the most iconic musical events in history, will delight readers as Suzannah finds her own voice – on stage and within herself.

That's What Friends Are For by Wade Rouse

If you loved The Golden Girls back in the day, you'll adore Theodore (Teddy) Copeland and his three roommates and best friends, who all live together in a pink mid-century Palm Springs home. Each month they honor Blanche, Rose, Dorothy and Sophia by putting on a drag show tribute called "The Golden Gays." Life is good for the four of them as they embrace their golden years. But when Teddy's estranged sister and her teen daughter arrive for a visit, the harmony of the group is disrupted as secrets come to light and memories of the past resurface. That's What Friends Are For is a story of chosen family, identity, love and friendship, and Jodi Picoult has called it "hilarious, [and] tender."

Served Him Right by Lisa Unger

When Ana and Paul break up, she decides to celebrate by hosting a brunch for her best girlfriends. But at the brunch, shocking news about Paul is revealed, and one of Ana's besties becomes seriously sick. While Ana had reasons to be angry with Paul, there are others who also had a score to settle with him. A revengeful secret society may be behind all that has gone wrong, and Ana must find out what is true before her own secrets are exposed and she takes the fall for someone else's misdeeds.

Strangers in the Villa by Robyn Harding

Robyn Harding is one of my favorite authors so I was thrilled to know that Strangers in the Villa publishes this month on March 3. When Sydney Lowe's husband admits he had an affair, the two head to Spain to repair their relationship. While working on their marriage and their remote house on a hilltop, unexpected travelers from Australia arrive. Against their better judgment, Sydney and Curtis invite the young couple into their home, figuring they could offer companionship and labor. As the days pass, and the guests make themselves at home, Sydney and Curtis realize they have more to worry about than just the fate of their marriage. Things turn dark and dangerous, and not everyone will make it out alive.

A Spell for Saints and Sinners by Emily Carpenter

Emily Carpenter is a master of Southern gothic novels and it's a thrill that A Spell for Saints and Sinners, set in Savannah, is publishing on March 31. Ingrid White has inherited her grandmother's home and her popular psychic business but without some serious cash and new clients, she's about to lose everything. But then Ingrid gives an eerily accurate psychic reading to bride-to-be Sailor Loeffler, the daughter of one of Savannah's wealthiest families, and becomes the heiress's confidante. Ingrid continues to practice the magic she learned from her grandmother, but her spells become darker and even more risky as she's drawn into Sailor's inner circle of privilege and wealth. This alluring mix of class, power, secrets and modern witchcraft makes this a novel that bestselling author Carter Wilson calls "dark, dazzling and impossible to resist."

GUIDE DOG AT WORK

Keep Guide Dog Teams Safe!

Guide dogs work to help people who are blind safely navigate the world. It is crucial that pet owners keep their dogs at a safe distance away from a guide dog team. While it may seem harmless for pets to visit with a guide dog at work, that dog is responsible for leading someone who cannot see. Distracting the guide dog could jeopardize the safety of the handler.

Please follow these tips to help keep guide dog teams safe:

- Please do not distract guide dogs. This includes calling the dog, making eye contact, feeding or petting the dog.
- Never let your pet be near a guide dog, even if leashed.
- It is helpful to greet a person who is blind and let them know you have a dog with you.
- Always speak to the handler directly and never touch the handler or the dog without the handler's permission.

PPAWS - People & Puppies at Work for Sight "MEET THE PACK!"

Allyship at Its Finest

Want to keep guide dog teams safe? Follow these four simple tips!

- Please do not distract guide dogs. This includes calling the dog, making eye contact, feeding or petting the dog.
- Never let your pet be near a guide dog, even if leashed.
- It is helpful to greet a person who is blind and let them know you have a dog with you.
- Always speak to the handler directly and never touch the handler or the dog without the handler's permission.

Photo Description: 1 - A young man bends down to restrain his large pet dog as a guide dog team exits a local shop.

2 - A pet owner sits on a bench and keeps her pet poodle close to her to allow a guide dog team to pass on the trail without interference.

3 - A pet owner steps up on her lawn to put distance between her two small dogs and the guide dog team.

PPAWS (People & Puppies at Work for Sight) is a dedicated group of local families from Atlantic and Cape May Counties, which raise these amazing puppies for The Seeing Eye. Until a Seeing Eye dog is ready for training, he or she lives with a puppy raising or foster family that gives the dog love, gentle guidance, and consistent care. These volunteers nurture their puppy to accomplish its special destiny. If you are interested in raising a puppy for The Seeing Eye, call Peter at (609)804-8774 or visit seeingeye.org/raise for info.

All are welcome to register for these FREE guided tours of the Camp Boardwalk: Atlantic City During World War II exhibit at the Noyes Arts Garage of Stockton University led by curator Dr. Patricia Chappine. These tours will feature a special focus on the women who were active contributors to the wartime defense effort in Atlantic City. Enjoy live Q&A and conversations with the curator in these educational tours. Limited space available, register now to save your space!

During WWII, Atlantic City, NJ became an essential part of the war effort, earning it the nickname "Camp Boardwalk." The Army converted major hotels into a military training and redistribution area and established the Thomas M. England General Hospital, a recovery and rehabilitation center for injured soldiers. The community mobilized its resources for Civilian Defense, calling on local men and women to be air raid wardens and airplane spotters. Women volunteered for the USO and the Red Cross, joined the military and worked as nurses. African American men and women served in the military, worked in the defense industry and volunteered on the home front. This exhibit showcases the wartime narrative of Atlantic City, connecting the stories of the men and women who trained, worked, recovered and volunteered there.

Curated by Dr. Patricia Chappine, in collaboration with the Atlantic City Free Public Library, Millville Army Air Field Museum, Sara & Sam Schoffer Holocaust Resource Center, Atlantic County Historical Society, and the National Guard Militia Museum of New Jersey.

After decades of war, upheaval, and frustration in the Middle East, some argue the U.S. should step back and Cook challenges that assumption. Drawing on over 75 years of history, he argues while America made mistakes, it has largely succeeded in protecting interests in the region. In this timely and wide-ranging conversation, Cook will explore what went wrong, lessons learned, and what a more disciplined and realistic American strategy in the Middle East should look like today. Attend in-person at Beth Israel, 2501 Shore Road, Northfield. RSVP by April 10.
