Ciao, Bella! Discover an extraordinary Italian dining experience at Hard Rock Hotel & Casino this winter! Just steps from the renowned Boardwalk and proudly recognized as the Top Casino Restaurant in America by USA Today, the establishment invites you to savor the essence of Italian cuisine.

From an impeccably curated menu and an ambiance that reflects the prestige of its location, Il Mulino offers a sophisticated retreat for those who appreciate culinary distinction.

Il Mulino's origin story centers on brothers Fernando and Gino Masci from Italy's Abruzzo region, who opened the original restaurant in New York's Greenwich Village in 1981. The restaurant became famous for rustic, high-end Italian dining with abundant complimentary antipasti, attracting celebrities and Wall Street types before later expansion and new ownership, further enhancing its brand. I personally have fond memories of visiting their establishment in New York as a child with my family, laughing and savoring their complimentary starters, including focaccia, zucchini, and cured meats, which filled us up long before our main courses.

In 2012, the Masci brothers sold their stake, leading to a significant expansion under new ownership. New locations opened across the United States and internationally, including the creation of various concepts such as Il Mulino Prime and Trattoria Il Mulino. Il Mulino New York opened its first Atlantic City location in the Trump Taj Mahal Casino Resort in September 2008, offering its renowned Italian cuisine in a fine-dining setting before moving to its current home at the Hard Rock Hotel & Casino, in June of 2018.

For decades, Il Mulino has become a staple for clientele with discerning palates, offering "one-of-a-kind" cuisine filled with delectable flavors, where every dish is a masterpiece. Open Sunday through Thursday from 5 pm to 10 pm, Friday from 5 pm to 11 pm, and Saturday from 4 pm to 11 pm, you can enjoy the flavors of Abruzzo seven days a week.

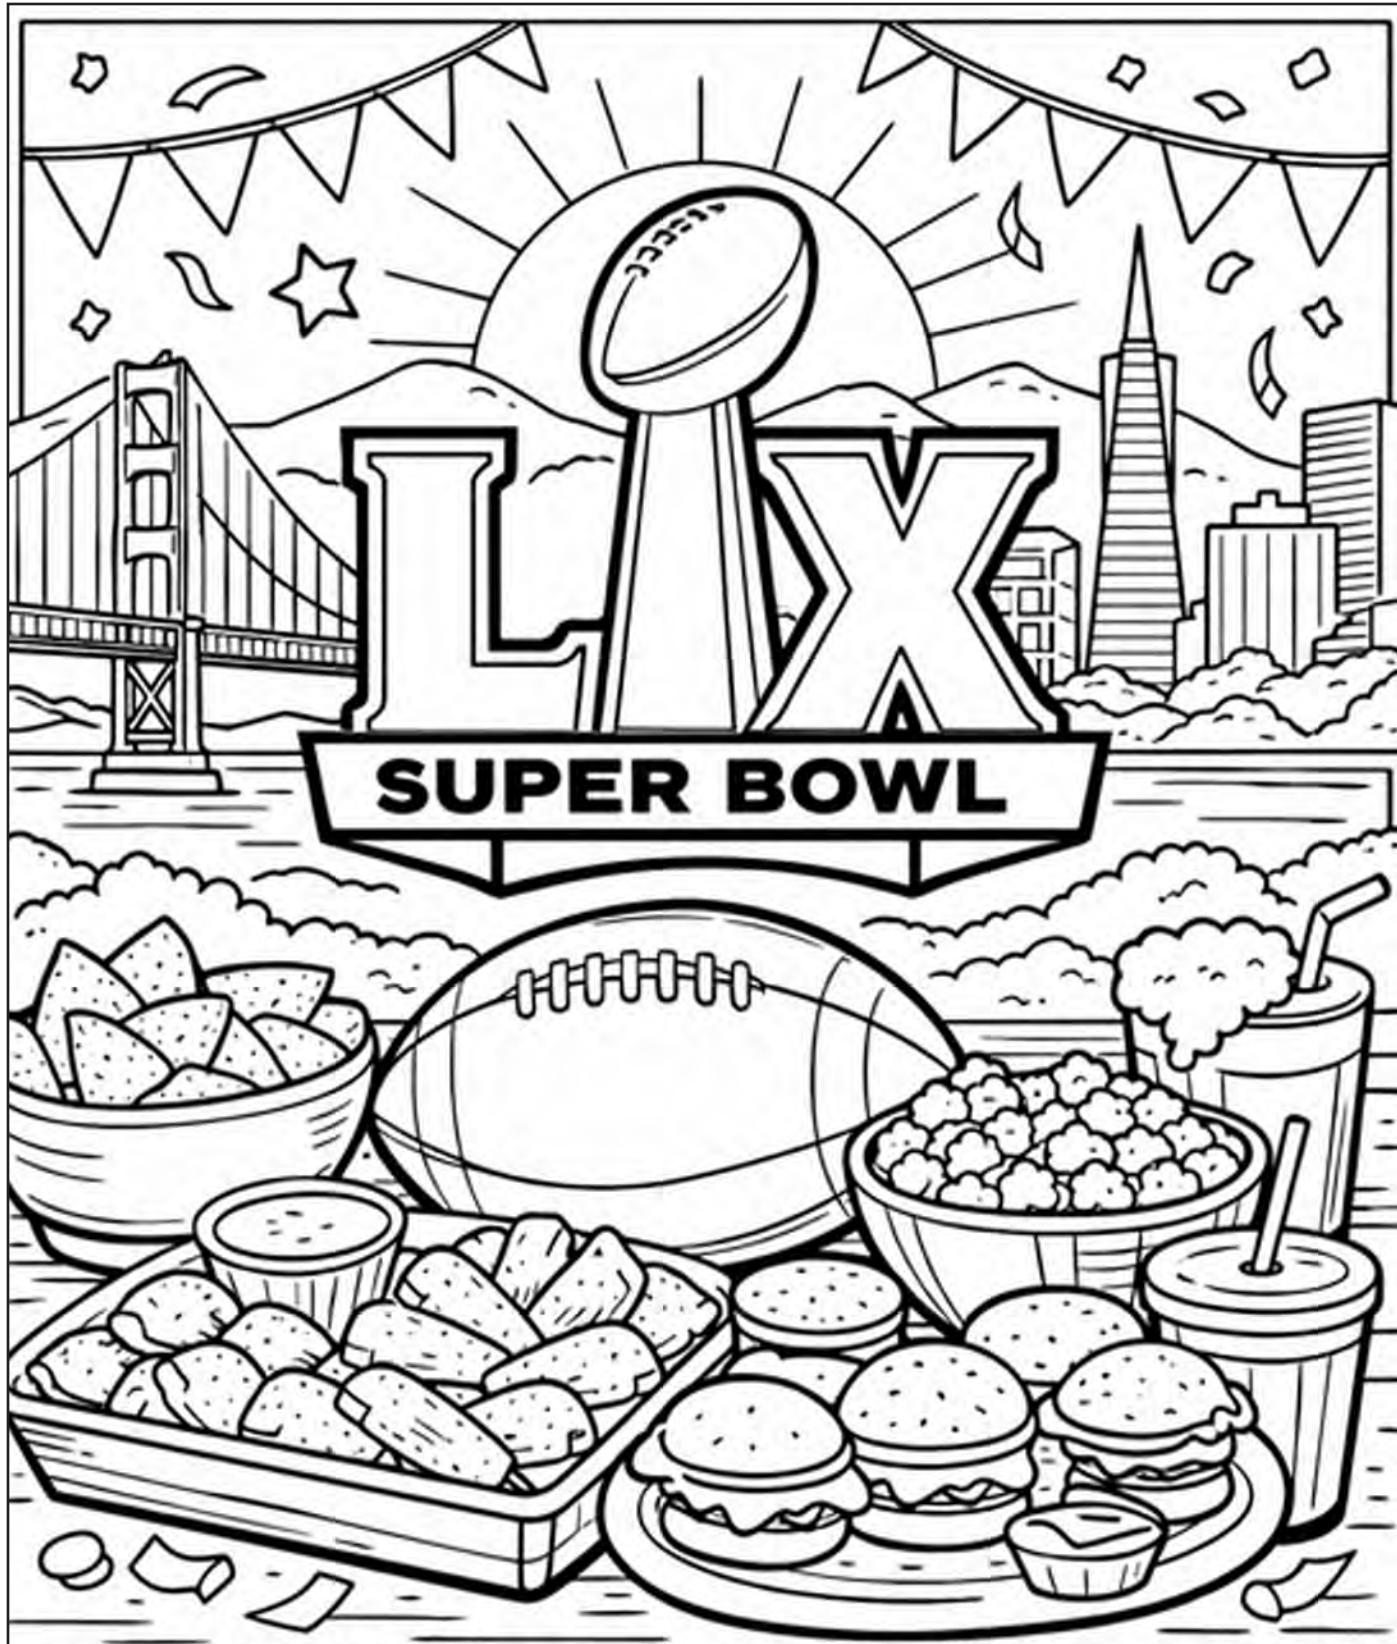

They offer a fantastic Prix Fixe Menu Fridays through Sundays ($61 for adults and $29 for children 12 and under), which includes a three-course dining experience with tantalizing appetizer items such as classic caprese or carpaccio, entrees like gnocchi toscano, vitello alla Milanese, filetto de manzo, and rigatoni bolognese, and a choice of cheesecake, tiramisu, or flourless chocolate cake to round off your palate.

They also offer online ordering, allowing you to savor the taste of Abruzzo in the comfort of your own home. If you are planning a special occasion, look no further! Celebrate milestones and consider entertaining your guests with events at any scale in the Il Mulino tradition, where their unforgettable cuisine and style meet unparalleled service. They offer multiple private dining spaces for 45 guests or more, and a full capacity of 300 guests!

On this Valentine's Day, consider Il Mulino for a romantic dinner. It is an ideal venue for a date or a celebration of love with up to 15 guests. Il Mulino offers an unparalleled dining experience with its comprehensive four-course menu. Utilizing the freshest ingredients, including a touch of Abruzzi flair, the culinary creations are sure to delight your senses. By the end of the evening, you will undoubtedly exclaim, "La Vita e Bella!" Visit them online at <https://www.imny.com/location/atlantic-city/>.

FROM THE HEART OF ATLANTIC COUNTY MAGAZINE

As winter settles in, members of the local Indian community will gather this week for one of the most meaningful celebrations of the season, honoring knowledge, learning, and the arts through the annual observance of Saraswati Puja.

RKTA is inviting families and community members to take part in Saraswati Puja 2026, a traditional Hindu religious ceremony dedicated to Goddess Saraswati, the deity of wisdom, education, music, and creativity. The celebration will be held at 611 S. Shore Rd., Absecon, bringing together worship, ritual, and fellowship in a setting designed to welcome both longtime participants and those experiencing the tradition for the first time.

The puja will begin at 11:30 a.m., with Pushpanjali - the offering of flowers - scheduled for 1:00 p.m. Prasad and Arti will follow, allowing attendees to take part in the full ceremonial sequence that marks this important observance. The service will be conducted by Priest Shubash Chakraborty, whose leadership will guide participants through each stage of the ritual.

Saraswati Puja holds special significance for students, teachers, artists, and families, as it celebrates the pursuit of knowledge and the lifelong value of learning. Traditionally, books, musical instruments, and tools of study are brought forward for blessing, symbolizing a renewed commitment to education and personal growth in the year ahead.

Organizers encourage families of all ages to attend, emphasizing that the event is both a spiritual observance and a community gathering - a chance to come together, reflect, and celebrate shared cultural traditions.

RKTA cordially invites the community to join in marking Saraswati Puja 2026 and to take part in a morning of prayer, tradition, and fellowship.

NFL Conference Championships: Stakes, Spreads and Storylines

This weekend's NFL Conference Championship games carry heavy implications for Super Bowl LX, with each matchup featuring contrasting narratives, betting dynamics, and historical intrigue. As the playoffs narrow to the final four, oddsmakers and analysts have settled on favorites - but undercurrents of volatility and history make both games compelling beyond the scoreboard.

AFC CHAMPIONSHIP

NFC CHAMPIONSHIP

In the AFC Championship, the New England Patriots are favored to beat the Denver Broncos despite playing on the road at Empower Field at Mile High. Early lines opened with New England as a modest favorite, but in the wake of Broncos quarterback Bo Nix's season-ending ankle injury, the Patriots have been bet up to about a 5½-point favorite, reflecting confidence that New England's continuity edge and strong road performance will decide this contest. The over/under on total points for the game has been set in the low 40s, suggesting expectations of a physical, possession-oriented battle where field position and defense could matter as much as explosive plays. Patriots road play has been a theme all year, and Denver's reliance on backup Jarrett Stidham presents a narrative that bettors and fans alike are weighing closely as they consider where the line settles by kickoff. This game kicks off at 3:00p.m. EST on CBS.

The NFC Championship offers a contrasting storyline at Lumen Field, where the Seattle Seahawks are favored by a few points against the Los Angeles Rams in what will be the third time these division rivals have met this season. Seattle's dominance in the Divisional Round - particularly a commanding defensive performance that held the San Francisco 49ers to just three points - has reinforced its status as a home-field favorite and helped push its odds ahead of Los Angeles. The Rams, who split their two regular-season games with the Seahawks and won a thrilling overtime contest in Chicago to reach this point, are poised to attempt a rare playoff feat: winning three road games in a single postseason, something only a handful of teams have accomplished. An over/under in the high 40s suggests expectations for a more open, higher-scoring game than in the AFC. This game begins at 6:30p.m. EST on FOX.

Beyond the spreads, historical and strategic context adds depth to both matchups. The Patriots and Broncos both have deep playoff pedigrees, with New England's methodical attack and experience contrasting Denver's rugged defense and mountain-air advantage, now tested under a backup at quarterback. Meanwhile, Seattle's defense has repeatedly climbed in playoff importance, and veteran Rams quarterback Matthew Stafford brings postseason experience and poise to a rivalry game that has seen multiple lead changes and dramatic finishes this season. For bettors and fans interested in trends, models and simulations suggest both games could feature tight margins, with some projections favoring under totals and others hinting at edge value in underdog lines - especially if line movement continues in response to late-week practice reports and market shifts.

These Conference Championship games are more than just a step away from the Super Bowl; they are tests of strategy, resilience and narrative momentum. Whether it's New England's adaptability and playoff experience, Denver's uphill battle after injury, Seattle's home dominance or the Rams' potential historic run, Sunday's winners will have earned their place on the league's biggest stage in Santa Clara. With both games featuring competitive odds, intriguing matchups and rich backstories, this weekend promises to be definitive in shaping the final landscape of the 2025-26 NFL season - and to leave fans, bettors and pundits with memorable moments well before the Lombardi Trophy is awarded.

HELP RESTOCK THE FOOD PANTRY

SOUPER BOWL

JFS DONATE

While millions of sports enthusiasts will get ready to watch the 60th annual 'big game' on television, Jewish Family Service of Atlantic & Cape May Counties (JFS) will host its own Souper Bowl. To help combat food insecurity, JFS will collect canned and packaged soups for community members to enjoy during the cold winter months.

"At JFS, we are committed to meeting the needs of our community especially by ensuring access to nutritious, hearty food," said Andrea Steinberg, JFS Chief Executive Officer. "The donated soups will make a meaningful difference for individuals and families who rely on our Margate pantry and food truck, the latter which serves residents of Atlantic City."

Jewish Family Service to Host Its Own Souper Bowl Agency Hopes to Score Hundreds of Canned and Packaged Soups

In 2025, JFS' pantry distributed more than 411,925 pounds of food including fresh fruits, vegetables, dairy, poultry, frozen, and non-perishable products to 13,435 adults, including 5,128 children. With the need for food and basic necessities continuing to escalate, JFS has become a 'go-to' pantry for residents.

The Souper Bowl collection encourages donors to drop-off hearty soups. Cans with pop-tops are appreciated and make for easy opening, especially for people with limited access to can openers.

Donations for the Souper Bowl will be accepted from January 23 through February 2 at JFS, located at 607 North Jerome Avenue in Margate. For info on donating or requesting food from the JFS Pantry, contact 609.822.1108 x170 or jfspantry@jfsatlantic.org.

As January presses on, Philadelphia's Sixers and Flyers navigated a week marked by streaks ending, tight competition, and performances that have begun to shape the next phase of their seasons. Between tough losses and hard-fought wins, both teams showed glimpses of potential alongside areas that still need sharpening, setting up a slate of games next week that will be critical to gaining momentum as February approaches.

76ers: Narrow Margins and a Needed Spark

Philadelphia opened the week with back-to-back home losses to the Cleveland Cavaliers, falling 133-107 in the first game and 117-115 in the second. The Cavaliers' control in the paint and balanced scoring prevented the Sixers from establishing rhythm, while Philadelphia struggled to convert in late-game situations despite strong individual efforts.

Midweek, Tyrese Maxey and Joel Embiid showed their impact as the Sixers battled the Indiana Pacers. Maxey posted 29 points and eight assists, including eight steals, while Embiid added 30 points and nine rebounds in a 113-104 win that highlighted the team's potential when star players and supporting roles align.

The weekend brought a competitive clash against the Phoenix Suns, ending in a 116-110 loss. Philadelphia displayed flashes of offensive balance but could not stop Phoenix's late-quarter shooting surge, leaving the Sixers with key takeaways on defensive rotations and bench contributions.

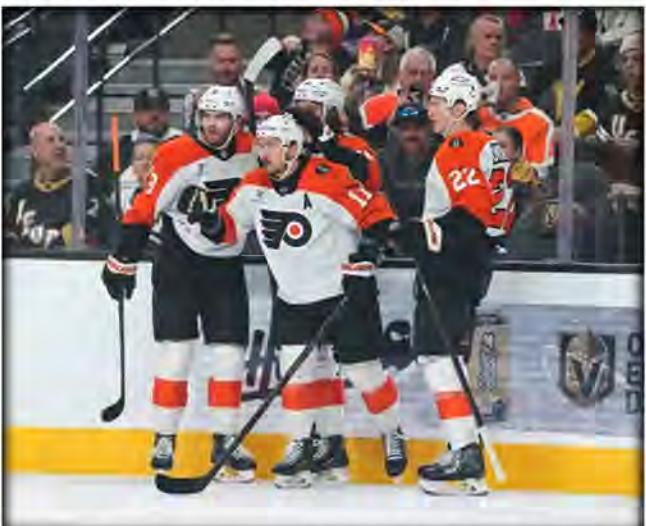

Looking ahead, Philadelphia will host the Houston Rockets and New York Knicks before traveling to Charlotte to face the Hornets and returning home to play the Milwaukee Bucks. The focus will be on sustaining offensive contributions beyond the stars, tightening defensive schemes, and capitalizing on home-court opportunities to climb the Eastern Conference standings.

Flyers: Slump Broken, Depth Under Scrutiny

Philadelphia's week began in Buffalo with a 5-2 loss to the Sabres. Rasmus Dahlin scored twice for Buffalo, and the Flyers were unable to sustain offensive momentum, signaling a need for improved consistency and control in transition plays.

Midweek, the Flyers fell 6-3 to the New York Rangers, with Mika Zibanejad scoring a hat trick. The loss extended Philadelphia's losing streak to six games, highlighting ongoing challenges in offensive depth and defensive structure against high-powered opponents.

The weekend brought a pivotal turnaround on the road in Las Vegas. Travis Konecny scored both goals, including a short-handed tally, and Samuel Ersson made 24 saves in a 2-1 victory over the Golden Knights. The win ended the skid and offered a confidence boost for a team still seeking consistency.

Looking ahead, the Flyers face road games at Utah and Colorado, followed by home action against the New York Islanders and a trip to Columbus to face the Blue Jackets. Key priorities include maintaining scoring depth, stabilizing goaltending, and reinforcing defensive structure, especially with injuries limiting the roster in key forward and defensive positions.

Looking forward: Opportunities and tests in the weeks ahead

As the calendar advances, both the Sixers and Flyers are confronting tests that will ultimately define their January trajectories. Philadelphia's basketball club has shown it can mix promising offensive bursts with close losses, but consistency and defensive execution remain essential for climbing the Eastern Conference standings. The Flyers, having snapped a prolonged skid, now face the challenge of sustaining that confidence while navigating injuries and a demanding slate of games.

Across both leagues, this segment of the season underscores the importance of depth, adaptability, and execution under pressure. For Philadelphia's fans, the recent week offered clear direction on both promise and improvement, ushering in a stretch of competition that could have meaningful implications for each team's momentum into February and beyond.

Dale

Jim Hughes, a retired high school history teacher living in Farmingdale, New York, has a simple philosophy of life: "Life well." He does that with the help of his fourth Seeing Eye dog, a black Labrador retriever named Dale. The photo shows Jim standing next to Dale, who is sitting on an elevated platform.

"He's the sweetest dog I ever had," Jim said. "I jokingly tell people that he has two occupations, guiding me and providing emotional support."

While Jim was still teaching, Dale's services were needed after two adults were killed and another seriously injured in a school bus accident.

"I just sat on the floor with him and asked the students if anyone needed puppy love. You would be amazed how Dale's sweetness and loving nature help them process some of their grief. Boys and girls in the band, football players, and the quietest kids came over and said they would like some puppy love," Jim said. "His presence definitely helped break the silence and got students thinking about something outside of their pain and suffering. From that point forward I received several requests from students for puppy love when they were stressed or simply having a bad day."

PPAWS - People & Puppies at Work for Sight

“MEET THE PACK!”

 3 YEARS OF THE 18,000 TEAM!

Kyle Coon, a two-time Paralympian, was matched with his third dog, a black Labrador retriever named Hugh, in December of 2023. The pair was the 18,000th team created by The Seeing Eye!

“In harness, Hugh loves to work. He gets laser-focused, especially when he’s in a less familiar area. He really leans into his harness like he’s a sled dog and I’m the sled,” Kyle said.

“Out of harness, he goes through moments of complete relaxation to bouncing around and rolling on the ground. He loves his chest being scratched and rubbed, and always knows when it’s mealtime because he’ll come and just put his head on my lap and won’t budge until there’s food in his bowl. Overall, he’s super calm and loves playing with his other dog friends when they’re also out of harness.”

PPAWS (People & Puppies at Work for Sight) is a dedicated group of local families from Atlantic and Cape May Counties, which raise these amazing puppies for The Seeing Eye. Until a Seeing Eye dog is ready for training, he or she lives with a puppy raising or foster family that gives the dog love, gentle guidance, and consistent care. These volunteers nurture their puppy to accomplish its special destiny.

If you are interested in raising a puppy for The Seeing Eye, call Peter at (609)804-8774 or visit seeingeye.org/raise for info.

HEALTHFUL LIVING

A Weekly Guide to Health Awareness

YOGA POSE OF THE WEEK - Seated Forward Bend (Paschimottanasana)

There are many hamstring stretches in beginning yoga for a good reason. The hamstrings tend to get short and tight in people who sit a lot, which can contribute to lower back pain. Stretching them as you do in the Seated Forward Bend is helpful.

This yoga pose offers a stretch to the entire back of the body. Bend at your hips, not your waist, and keep your neck aligned with your spine.

VITAMIN HIGHLIGHT - Vitamin A

One type comes from animal sources of food. It helps you see at night, make red blood cells, and fight off infections. The other type is in plant foods. It helps prevent damage to cells and an eye problem called age-related macular degeneration. (But too much vitamin A can hurt your liver.) Eat orange veggies and fruits like sweet potato and cantaloupe, spinach and other greens, dairy foods, seafood such as shrimp & salmon.

GET INVOLVED FAIR

1.28

Stockton University students are invited to explore nearly 200 student organizations, fraternities, sororities, athletic groups, and campus initiatives during the Spring 2026 Get Involved! Fair, taking place Tuesday, January 27 and Wednesday, January 28, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Stockton's Galloway Campus (101 Vera King Farris Drive). The event stretches throughout the A-L Wing hallways and the Campus Center, with new space added this spring in the Lower L & K Wings and the PAC Lobby.

Stockton University Hosts Spring 2026 Get Involved! Fair

The fair offers students a chance to connect with clubs and organizations across every interest, from academic and cultural groups to community partnerships and athletics. A Student Organization Showcase in the PAC Lobby begins at 12 p.m. both days, featuring performances and demonstrations by student groups, with refreshments provided. Attendees can meet representatives, learn about upcoming programs and events, and discover ways to get involved on campus.

Among the organizations tabling is the Noyes Museum of Art of Stockton University, which will provide information about its sites, upcoming exhibitions, programs, and internship opportunities. Students interested in art, education, or museum work can stop by the table to learn how to participate in the museum's offerings.

The Get Involved! Fair is a signature campus event each semester, designed to help students explore extracurricular opportunities, build connections, and discover resources that enhance both their academic and personal experience at Stockton University. Free food and giveaways add to the festive, welcoming atmosphere.
