A Brief History of the Boardwalk: South Jersey's Iconic Shore Strolls

When you think of the Jersey Shore, the boardwalk is as much a part of the experience as the beach itself. With the scent of salt air, the glow of neon lights, and the rhythm of waves beneath, South Jersey's iconic boardwalks have offered generations of visitors a place to stroll, snack, and soak up summer. From grand hotels to neon-lit rides, these walkways are where shore memories are made.

Atlantic City: The Original Shore Stroll - The Atlantic City Boardwalk holds the distinction of being the world's first boardwalk, built in 1870. Designed initially as a practical solution to keep sand out of hotels and train cars, the wooden walkway quickly became the heart of AC's tourism industry. By the early 1900s, it was lined with grand hotels, theaters, and amusement piers. The legendary Steel Pier, opened in 1898, became famous for hosting diving horses, big band performances, and early movie screenings.

Did You Know? The first section of Atlantic City's boardwalk was only eight feet wide and one mile long!

Today, the Atlantic City Boardwalk stretches about 5.5 miles and blends historic charm with modern casinos, shops, and restaurants. It remains a must-see attraction where you can literally walk in the footsteps of history.

Ocean City: Family-Friendly Tradition - Ocean City's boardwalk began in 1880, just a decade after Atlantic City's, reflecting the town's early commitment to providing clean, wholesome fun. After storms and fires destroyed early versions, the resilient community rebuilt each time. The 1927 rebuild set the stage for today's boardwalk, which stretches about 2.5 miles and is packed with family-friendly amusements, bike rentals, mini golf, and classic food stands.

Did You Know? Ocean City's boardwalk is home to some of the oldest continuously operating amusement rides in New Jersey.

Wildwood: Doo-Wop Meets the Boards - Wildwood's boardwalk dates to 1900, but its heyday arrived in the 1950s and '60s, when the town became synonymous with Doo-Wop culture. Neon signs, motels with space-age themes, and the pulse of rock-and-roll gave the boardwalk its distinct character. Today, its two-mile stretch is home to giant amusement piers, waterparks, arcades, and some of the largest Ferris wheels on the East Coast.

Did You Know? Wildwood's boardwalk once hosted early performances by rock legends like Bill Haley and Chubby Checker.

A Walk Through Time - From Atlantic City's pioneering planks to Wildwood's bright lights and Ocean City's family-friendly charm, South Jersey's boardwalks remain timeless symbols of summer. Whether you're chasing arcade tickets, savoring funnel cake, or breathing in that salty breeze, a stroll on these historic boards connects you to over a century of shore tradition.

This Saturday, June 28, Margate thrills to the pulsating rhythm of Beachstock 2025: The Planet's Biggest Beach Party, a sun-to-sunset celebration that blends local charm with all-out beach fun.

Along the sand between Huntington and Granville Avenues, the community gathers—not for a show, but for an all-day experience that's as lighthearted as it is lively. This free event removes the splash of beach tags and invites more than 5,000 attendees yearly to explore dozens of food trucks (from local classics like Cali Shakes, Tacocat, and South Jersey Smoke House, to newcomers like DonutNV and Philly Pretzel Factory), browse artisan crafters, and sample cold beverages under the sun.

Live entertainment takes center stage beginning at 11:30am, with acts ranging from alternative rock by Sunrise Cries, to Latin surf sounds from Mas Tequila Orchestra, to family-friendly feats from The Hook. South Pacific Island Dancers offer cultural flair, country singer Nikki Briar hits around sunset, and the NJ British Invasion wraps up the night with Beatles, Stones, and Who classics. A sunset screening of Moana 2 for kids—followed by a bonfire—cements Beachstock's reputation as a true family-friendly evening.

Beachstock is more than entertainment—it's participatory, community-minded fun. Free surfing lessons from Stacey's Surf Camp, cornhole, volleyball, kite demos by Air Circus, and a home-run derby from AC Volleyball Factory keep the pace energetic. Younger guests can enjoy a dedicated Kids Stage with hula hoop sessions, eco-themed treasure hunts, Wawa freebies, and crafts. Sustainable Downbeach takes its role seriously, too—staffed tents and environmental exhibits highlight the region's coastal stewardship efforts.

Other highlights include meet-and-greets with the newly crowned Miss New Jersey and the Philadelphia Eagles' Super Bowl LII Lombardi Trophy. Plus, a waterfront Tiki Bar adds that breezy, weekend-away feeling.

Parking is made easy with a complimentary lot at Eugene A. Tighe Middle School and a free jitney running along Atlantic Avenue. Beachstock rolls on from 8am to 10pm with a rain date of June 29, promising a full day of sun, sound, and community.

What Makes It Special - Beachstock isn't just a fest—it's Margate's annual reminder of why summer works at the Shore. It's vibrant without being overwhelming; spontaneous but well-organized; rooted in local pride and wide open to newcomers. It's this blend—live-stage excitement, seaside calm, childlike joy, craft sips, and the casual chance to stand at the edge of a bonfire under the stars—that makes Beachstock feel less like an event and more like a Shore tradition in motion.

What's Next After Beachstock - Even as the embers fade, Margate's summer calendar continues to gain momentum. Thursday mornings bring open-air farmers' markets along S. New York Avenue, where local produce, prepared foods, baked goods, and artisan craft standouts are always in season. Ongoing options include surf lessons on calm-weather mornings, sunset strolls to Lucy the Elephant, and casual boating or crabbing outings along the bayfront.

Beachstock delivers one day of unapologetic joy—food, activity, art, and coast. But in Margate, the summer doesn't begin and end with one event. It's a season marked by moments: the first surf, the first lemon shake-up, the first bonfire. And if this Saturday is any indication, the Shore is open for everything between the sand and stars.

YOGA POSE OF THE WEEK - Seated Wide Angle Straddle (Upavistha Konasana)

Opening your legs wide creates a slightly different stretch from Paschimottanasana. To do this yoga pose: Separate your legs into a wide position. Flex both feet and engage both legs on the floor, coming into Upavistha Konasana. Forward bend to the center, extending your spine on inhale and deepening the yoga pose on exhale. Though it may look like the mandate is to bring your chest to the floor, it's not about that. Instead, keep your back flat, rotate your pelvis forward instead of crunching through your spine, and keep your feet flexed. If you do all three of these things, it doesn't matter how far forward you lean.

WIDE ANGLE STRADDLE

TIP

As you move into the forward bend, make sure to keep your knee caps pointing toward the ceiling.

VITAMIN HIGHLIGHT - Vitamin B1

It helps your body turn food into energy. It's also key for the structure of brain cells. Legumes, like black beans and lentils, and seeds are go-to sources. Pork and whole grains are also good. Most people get enough thiamin from the foods they eat, but pregnant and breastfeeding women need a little more. People with diabetes tend to have low levels of it.

International Chicken Wing Day is celebrated each year on July 1. This day recognizes every type of chicken wing, whether it is buffalo wings or different sauce varieties such as barbeque, ranch, garlic, or parmesan — the list is endless. It strives to give importance to chicken wings of all shapes, sizes, flavors, types. What's most important is that you have a bucket of chicken wings ready to be indulged in on this day.

History of International Chicken Wing Day

Believe it or not, Americans have been celebrating a day dedicated to Chicken Wings for over four decades! The former mayor of Buffalo, Stan Makowski, officially declared International Chicken Wing Day back in 1977.

Many refer to chicken wings as 'Buffalo wings' as Buffalo was the city of the original invention of this lip-smacking dish. The actual birthplace of these Buffalo wings was Anchor Bar in Buffalo, New York. The son of the bar's founder, Teresa Bellissimo, wanted to treat his friends to a late-night fried dish. He air-fried the wings reserved for soup stock and mixed them with a yummy sauce — and this led to the creation of the modern-day Buffalo wings. However, on International Chicken Wing Day, the limelight is on all kinds of wings.

Chicken wings are perfect when they are crispy on the outside with the meat inside cooked all the way through while retaining its juices. The most important element is the sauce, with hot sauce bringing out that heat and sweet sauces being full of flavor. They are even served with celery, carrots, or other crunchy veggies to provide a balanced taste palate.

Chicken wings have gained exponential popularity with chicken wing festivals mushrooming almost everywhere. The National Buffalo Wing Festival remains the most famous event. Several years after the inception of these chicken wings, McDonald's, followed by KFC and Domino's Pizza, introduced their own hot wings.

Now Chicken Wings are not just eaten in the U.S. but in all parts of the world such as Canada, India, Mexico, Germany, Singapore, the United Kingdom, and many more. Who wouldn't want an entire day dedicated to this dish that makes us salivate as soon we hear the name!

International Chicken Wing Day Activities

- Share a gigantic bucket of chicken wings - Dish up a gigantic bucket of chicken wings and share them with your friends and family on International Chicken Wing Day. Have a fun competition on who can finish the maximum number of wings in a set time. Go all out on this fun food holiday.
- Attend the National Buffalo Wing Festival - A festival held on Labor Day weekend in Downtown Buffalo, New York, the National Buffalo Day Wing Festival is quite famous. They celebrate the Buffalo-style chicken wing. Head there with a large appetite and indulge in a food fiesta!
- Visit Anchor Bar in Buffalo - Anchor Bar in Buffalo is known as the home of the Buffalo wing. Plan a trip to visit the bar and order a bucket or two of their trademark Buffalo chicken wings.

5 Delicious Chicken Wing Facts

1. Americans eat a lot of chicken wings - Americans eat about 30 billion chicken wings on average every year.
2. Super Bowl Sunday - This is the biggest day for eating chicken wings and over 1.25 billion wings are eaten on Super Bowl Sunday alone each year.
3. Used as soup stock - Before the invention of chicken wings as a meal in themselves, they were used as soup stock.
4. Anchor Bar sells a whopping amount of wings - The home of Buffalo wings sells more than 70,000 pounds of chicken wings per month.
5. Capsaicin in the hot sauce - The peppers used to make the hot sauce contain capsaicin, and the more the capsaicin, the hotter the pepper and the hotter the sauce.

Why We Love International Chicken Wing Day

- It can be eaten with a variety of sauces - Chicken wings are often synonymous with the name 'hot wings' as people eat them with a hot sauce. However, now there are plenty of sauces one can choose from. They can also be eaten with ranch dressing, which is quite popular. Another go-to dip is blue cheese.
- They're easy to make - Chicken wings are easy to make and not time-consuming at all. The total preparation time is up to an hour. Once you have your delicious wings ready, you can dig right in.
- They're very popular - Chicken wings are super popular as they have so many flavors and textures. They are a perfect addition to any party or potluck. Everyone will be left wanting more. They are even easily available at stores and you can pick your favorite ones and savor every bite.

Where to Celebrate Chicken Wing Day in Atlantic County

In Atlantic County, International Chicken Wing Day isn't just a calendar novelty - it's practically a hometown holiday. Whether you're into classic Buffalo, dry rubs, or sauces that demand extra napkins, the local wing scene delivers.

Vagabond Kitchen & Tap House in Atlantic City has long been a staple for wing lovers, offering a lineup that's anything but ordinary. With past wins under their belt from local Wing Wars competitions, they've got the street cred to back up their saucy reputation. Their variety—from heat-forward Buffalo to sweeter Calypso Mango - makes it easy to find a favorite (or argue over which one's best).

Over in Margate, Maynard's Café continues to draw loyal crowds with their no-fuss, reliably satisfying wings. With multiple sauces to choose from and an unbeatable summer atmosphere, Maynard's nails the sweet spot between bar food and beach day ritual. You'll spot baskets of wings at almost every table - usually alongside a cold drink and a group of friends fresh off the sand.

Nonna's Grille in Northfield might not be the first place that comes to mind for wings, but locals know they do them well. Their classic Buffalo and BBQ styles lean into the hearty, saucy comfort that defines a good pub-style starter - perfect alongside a hot sandwich or pasta dinner.

What makes Chicken Wing Day feel especially Atlantic County is the vibe: these aren't just wings, they're part of a bigger experience. It's about gathering at a familiar table, leaning into conversation, and reaching for one more while debating flats vs. drums. The food's great - but it's the setting, the people, and the shared messiness that make it memorable.

So wherever you find yourself this July 29 - at the bar, on the patio, or back home with a takeout box - you've got plenty of local flavor to celebrate. Just bring napkins. Lots of them.

This Saturday, June 28, the Atlantic County coast transforms into a place of opportunity and empowerment as Heart of Surfing hosts its annual Surf Day at Ocean City's 57th Street Beach. From 9 a.m. to noon, the nonprofit invites families—especially those with children on the autism spectrum or with developmental differences—to experience the joy of riding waves in a supportive, accessible environment.

Now in its seventh summer, Surf Day is part of Heart of Surfing's mission to make the ocean a shared playground. Participants benefit from foam boards, volunteer instructors, and a community that understands the power of the water—not just for sport, but for connection. There's no fee to join, and registration ensures surf-ready athletes arrive with everything needed to paddle out and ride in.

Ocean City's 57th Street Beach, with its calm surf and long, open shoreline, offers the ideal setting. Local supporters, including family volunteers, guide surfers into the water, helping with paddling, balance, and standing up on the board. The result is unfiltered joy—the kind only found when the ocean meets access.

Organizers point to Surf Day as more than momentary fun. It's a reminder of how inclusion changes lives: participants build self-confidence, families forge connections, and volunteers walk away with a sense of purpose—and salt in their hair.

If you miss this Saturday's session, Heart of Surfing returns to local beaches throughout the summer—don't hesitate to check their website for updated dates and locations. Surf Day also complements International Surfing Day celebrations, turning casual beach outings into intentional acts of inclusion and joy.

Riding Waves of Inclusion: Heart of Surfing's Surf Day Returns to Ocean City

Why It Matters

- No surfer left behind: Surf Day democratizes an activity often defined by gear and experience.
- Building community: Family members meet, volunteers learn from each other, and the ocean connects strangers.
- Shared warmth: Laughter, encouragement, and clapping on the sand are just as meaningful as the waves.

A Quick Guide for the Morning:

- 📍 Where: Ocean City 57th Street Beach
- 🕒 When: Saturday, June 28, 9am–12pm
- 💰 Cost: Free - registration required
- 🧴 What to Bring: Sunscreen, towel, change of clothes, enthusiasm

Heart of Surfing Surf Day makes the Atlantic County coastline more than a backdrop - it becomes a stage for courage, community, and inclusivity. In those morning waves, the message is simple: everyone deserves to catch a moment of pure joy.

A municipal boat launch (fee required) is located at Albany Avenue and Boulevard Avenue.

Ventnor/Ventnor Heights - The Ventnor City Fishing Pier is located at Cornwall Avenue and the Boardwalk. The fishing pier offers seasonal rates for fishing or sightseeing. ## Inhale the Ocean: Salt Air and Breathwork at the Jersey Shore

It happens the moment you crest the bridge onto the island. The temperature dips just slightly, the breeze picks up, and the air changes — cool, salty, and alive with the scent of the sea. You roll down the window or step out of the car, and that first deep breath feels like a reset. The worries of the mainland slip away.

At the Jersey Shore, this ritual of arrival offers more than just nostalgia. The salt air, rich with sea minerals and natural negative ions, has long been linked to a sense of clarity, calm, and renewal. When paired with mindful breathwork, the ocean breeze can help quiet the mind, open the body, and reconnect you with the present moment.

Why Salt Air Feels So Healing - The rejuvenating power of salt air comes down to its unique mix of elements:

 Sea Aerosols: The ocean's mist carries microscopic salt crystals, magnesium, calcium, potassium, and iodine — trace minerals essential for our bodies. When we breathe in this moist, mineral-rich air, it can help loosen mucus, soothe the respiratory tract, and promote easier breathing. That's one reason seaside air was historically prescribed for those with asthma, bronchitis, or other lung conditions.

 Negative Ions: Moving water — waves crashing, tides flowing — releases negative ions into the air. These invisible molecules are believed to increase serotonin levels, reduce stress, and enhance mood. While the science is still developing, many people report a natural lift in energy and calm when surrounded by sea air.

 Natural Humidity: The Shore's moist air helps keep nasal passages and lungs hydrated, making each breath feel smoother and more comfortable compared to drier inland air.

Combined, these elements make the first breath of ocean air feel like a tonic — cooling, clearing, and restoring.

Simple Shore Breathwork to Try - Breathwork — the art of conscious breathing — lets you fully embrace the gifts of salt air.

 Bridge-to-Beach Breath Practice:

- As you cross the bridge, inhale deeply through your nose, savoring the coolness of the salt breeze.
- Exhale slowly through your mouth, releasing the rush of getting there.
- On the beach, match your breath to the rhythm of the waves: inhale for 4 counts, hold for 2, exhale for 6. Let the ocean's pulse guide you.

A Natural Reset - You don't need a gadget or a guidebook. Just pause, breathe deeply, and let the salt air work its quiet magic. At the Shore, the ocean welcomes you with each breath — a gift as timeless as the tides.

Kristen & Winnie

Seeing Eye graduate Kristen Dockendorff enjoyed a cruise across the Atlantic Ocean with her family... and her Seeing Eye dog, a golden retriever named Winnie!

The photo shows Kristen and Winnie sunning themselves on the cruise ship's deck. Kristen is lying on a lounge chair while Winnie stands next to her. She has one hand on Winnie's back.

Kristen and Winnie were up to the challenge of navigating a cruise ship, which has narrow hallways, movable deck chairs, and of course, lots of people. "Thankfully I have one of those dogs who remembers places very well, and knows just where we're going," Kristen said.

To answer all the many questions people had about Winnie and The Seeing Eye, Kristen offered to give a presentation, something she had once done on a previous cruise with her first Seeing Eye dog, a black Labrador retriever named Emma.

"More than 70 people came to the lecture. Afterwards a man and his wife came up to me and they said, 'You know, a few years ago we were on a cruise and we saw you do this with a black Lab!'"

PPAWS - People & Puppies at Work for Sight "MEET THE PACK!"

WHO'S JUNO, AND WHY DOES SHE WALK SO MUCH?

You may have previously heard the term "Juno Walk" thrown out by guide dog handlers and Seeing Eye instructors, but do you know what the term means?

Part of the science behind the matching process requires our Seeing Eye instructors to be able to understand how fast a potential Seeing Eye student walks and how much of a pull from the harness they need. To do this, instructors will do a "Juno Walk" with the student, acting as the dog and leading the student with a shortened harness handle for a short walk. The instructor will work with the student to determine how fast or slow they want to walk and how much pull they feel comfortable with.

All this information is incredibly helpful for our instructors when deciphering which dog would work best for each student!

Photo Description: Along The Seeing Eye's driveway, instructor Jackie Poshkus walks ahead of Seeing Eye graduate Tyian Lashley as they hold either end of a modified harness handle. The Seeing Eye Wohlers Family Foundation Master Instructor and Senior Manager of Instructor Training, Brian McKenna, walks behind the pair.

PPAWS (People & Puppies at Work for Sight) is a dedicated group of local families from Atlantic and Cape May Counties, which raise these amazing puppies for The Seeing Eye. Until a Seeing Eye dog is ready for training, he or she lives with a puppy raising or foster family that gives the dog love, gentle guidance, and consistent care. These volunteers nurture their puppy to accomplish its special destiny. If you are interested in raising a puppy for The Seeing Eye, call Peter at (609)804-8774 or visit seeingeye.org/raise for info.

Summer's Best Picks: What's Ripe at Atlantic County Markets

Summer has officially arrived, and there's a delicious energy pulsing through markets across Atlantic County right now. From Ventnor's Friday morning market to Linwood and Somers Point's Saturday favorites, this is the moment when Jersey Fresh produce shines brightest. Here's what's looking spectacular this week:

- ~ Blueberries are in full swing. Hammonton—the renowned “Blueberry Capital of the World”—is turning out plump, deep-blue berries ready for picking and snacking.
- ~ Strawberries are still sweet and abundant—a seasonal treat at every market stand.
- ~ Tomatoes and corn are making fresh summer waves: juicy, low-acid tomatoes and early sweet corn are hitting just the right note.
- ~ Herbs like basil and mint are flourishing, begging to be plucked from bundles and sprinkled into dishes.

To celebrate the moment, here are two fresh recipes you likely haven't seen yet—designed to let these summer stars shine.

Blueberry-Basil Cheesecake Parfaits

A refined twist on classic summer flavors—perfect for dessert or brunch.

Ingredients:

- 2 cups fresh blueberries, plus extra for garnish
- 3 Tbsp honey, divided
- 1 Tbsp fresh lemon juice
- ½ cup crushed graham crackers
- 1 tsp melted butter
- 8 oz cream cheese, softened
- ¼ cup Greek yogurt
- 2 Tbsp chopped fresh basil, plus leaves for garnish
- Pinch of salt

Instructions: Toss blueberries with 1 Tbsp honey and lemon juice; let macerate 10 minutes. Mix crackers, butter, and a pinch of salt; press into the bottom of four parfait glasses. Blend cream cheese, yogurt, basil, and remaining honey until smooth. Layer basil-cheese mixture over crumbs, followed by blueberries. Garnish with fresh basil and serve chilled.

Why it shines: Juicy blueberries pair with herbal basil in a creamy parfait—elevating a simple fruit treat into something elegant and unexpected.

Charred Corn & Heirloom Tomato Gazpacho

A seasonal soup that's no-cook (mostly) but full of charred flavor.

Ingredients:

- 2 ears fresh sweet corn, kernels cut off
- 2 cups heirloom tomatoes, roughly chopped
- ½ cucumber, peeled and diced
- ¼ red onion, minced
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 2 Tbsp chopped fresh basil, plus whole leaves
- 3 Tbsp olive oil
- 1 Tbsp sherry vinegar

Instructions: Grill corn kernels in a dry pan until lightly charred; cool. In a bowl, combine tomatoes, cucumber, onion, garlic, basil, grilled corn, olive oil, and vinegar. Season, chill 1 hour, then serve in bowls, garnished with basil leaves and a drizzle of olive oil.

Why it works: Charred corn adds a smoky crunch; paired with juicy heirlooms and crisp cucumbers, the result is a summer soup that's fresh, fun, and unforgettable.

Tips for a Stylish Market Visit

- ~ Arrive early for top-tier blueberries and heirloom tomato varieties
- ~ Buy in quantity—blanch and freeze extras for winter baking or quick smoothies.
- ~ Bring a basket—the markets are social hubs, and a little more produce might just walk into your hands.

This week's harvest is a love letter from the South Jersey fields: fruit, flavor, and possibility. These recipes don't just show off the bounty—they join in the celebration.

Compelling books that explore family secrets resonate with readers by weaving together mystery, drama and emotion. These stories captivate us by peeling back the layers of seemingly ordinary lives to reveal events and experiences that sometimes shape families across generations. The suspense of unearthing long-buried secrets keeps us turning pages, while the emotional journeys the characters travel invite us to reflect on how the past influences the present.

In these powerful stories, from historical fiction to gothic suspense to contemporary women's fiction, we find both the thrill of discovery and the universal journey of understanding, forgiveness and healing within the intricate web of family dynamics.

The Things We Cannot Say by Kelly Rimmer

In this poignant tale, a contemporary woman's journey to Poland unravels the hidden past of her beloved grandmother during the tumultuous era of WWII. As the story unfolds, secrets of forbidden love, heart-wrenching sacrifices and extraordinary resilience come to light, bridging the gap between past and present. Kelly Rimmer masterfully intertwines historical tragedy with modern-day discoveries, drawing readers into a world where love defies the horrors of war.

The Forgotten Room by Karen White, Beatriz Williams and Lauren Willig

Three acclaimed authors collaborate to craft a mesmerizing story spanning several decades. Nestled within the walls of a Gilded Age mansion lies a single room that connects three generations of women, each with her own story of love and ambition. As secrets from the past resonate through time, these women's lives intertwine in unexpected ways, revealing the enduring power of memory and the hidden ties that bind us all.

The Scent Keeper by Erica Bauermeister

Emmeline's secluded life on a remote island takes a monumental turn when she ventures into the outside world after her father's mysterious disappearance. Guided by the scents her father taught her, she embarks on an extraordinary quest to unveil the secrets of her family's past. This evocative tale explores how memories and scents co-mingle to shape identity, redefine love and ultimately lead to self-discovery.

How to Keep a Secret by Sarah Morgan

Set against the backdrop of picturesque Martha's Vineyard, this engaging, emotional novel immerses readers in the complex lives of three generations of Stewart women. As unexpected events bring Nancy, her daughters Lauren and Jenna, and granddaughter Mack together, long-held secrets and old misunderstandings surface. Through laughter, tears and shared experiences, they uncover the truths that link them, forging stronger familial bonds and embracing new beginnings.

The Family Upstairs by Lisa Jewell

When Libby inherits a grand yet chilling mansion, she plunges into a gripping mystery of dark family secrets. As she delves deeper into the house's sinister history, she uncovers tales of love gone awry, betrayal and a dysfunctional family entangled in a cult-like existence. Jewell masterfully crafts a suspenseful narrative that intertwines Libby's fate with the haunting legacy of the mansion, culminating in shocking and unforgettable revelations.
