A Weekly Guide to Health Awareness

YOGA POSE OF THE WEEK - Mountain Pose (Tadasana)

Mountain pose may not be as famous as Downward Facing Dog, but it is equally important. This is an excellent time to talk about alignment, which is how your body parts are ideally arranged in each pose.

The alignment in Mountain pose draws a straight line from the crown of your head to your heels, with the shoulders and pelvis stacked along the line. Every person's body is different, so focus on rooting down with your feet and lengthening up with your spine.

Remember to slide your shoulders down your back and keep weight on your heels.

MOUNTAIN POSE

FORM

Engage your quads, rotate your thighs inward, and let your arms hang naturally.

VITAMIN HIGHLIGHT - Riboflavin (Vitamin B2)

Vitamin B2 works closely with the other B vitamins to promote healthy growth and red blood cell production.

Food sources include meat, dairy products, leafy greens, and fortified bread and cereals.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)
 Pamper yourself; you deserve it. Your personal partner may be less than willing to accommodate you this week. You will not impress others by being foolishly generous. Take time to help children with projects that may be too hard for them to do on their own.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
 Your ability to put a deal together will surprise others. You may have problems with children. You're undergoing changes. You need to concentrate on your business ventures more than on your relationship this week. You are best to avoid joint ventures, and whatever you do, don't lend to friends or relatives.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 21)
 Help children complete projects they're having difficulty with. Don't get involved in idle chatter that will hurt your position. Rethink your motives and make the necessary changes to yourself. You will meet a person who may turn out to be more than just a friend.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22 - Jan. 20)
 Your moneymaking opportunities will flourish. Don't get involved in joint ventures. It's time to reevaluate your motives. Your home may be in an uproar and you are best to stay out of the line of fire if at all possible.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
 Curb or cut out that bad habit you've been meaning to do something about. Be wary of those who have overly strong convictions. Your confidence will stabilize your position. You will have a problem with your boss if you haven't done your job.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)
 You're on to something tangible and need to act fast. Your charisma will no doubt attract a lot of attention. Children will want to help, too. Payoff all your debts before you go out and celebrate.

FROM THE HEART OF ATLANTIC COUNTY MAGAZINE

National S'mores Day – August 10, 2022

We honor the most commonly packed camping snack by celebrating National S'mores Day on August 10. Summertime is finally here and with it comes camping and gathering around the firepit in the great outdoors. Originating right here in the U.S.A., the s'more has us salivating in anticipation of smashing those tasty toasted marshmallows with a slab of chocolate between two graham crackers. Read on for the latest trends in s'more-making and try a new twist on an old favorite tonight.

HISTORY OF NATIONAL S'MORES DAY

While the origins of National S'mores Day remain unknown, s'more, the great American camping treat, has a long, delicious history. The first mention of such a treat was in the 1920s in a book of recipes published by Campfire Marshmallows, home of the original marshmallow and still in business today. At that time, the recipe was called a 'Graham Cracker Sandwich' and suggested the treat had already been made popular by the Boy- and Girl Scouts.

Later, in 1927, the Girl Scouts published a similar recipe in "Tramping and Trailing with the Girl Scouts" but they called it 'some more.' Finally, in the late '30s to late '50s, various recipes gave the name as we know it today, s'mores.

The ingredients for the original s'mores are: one marshmallow, milk chocolate squares, and two graham crackers. The traditional method for making s'mores is by a campfire and it's hard to beat that experience. Part of the fun is each person searching for their own long, sturdy stick capable of holding a mound of marshmallows over the fire for toasting.

Then comes the toasting debate – how toasted do you prefer your marshmallows? Of course, this leads to a full-on psychological evaluation. Do you set your marshmallow on the fire and blow the flame out once it is burnt? Do you allow your marshmallow to hover over the flame and toast to a less than charred yet caramelized state? Do you barely get the marshmallow tan?

Whatever your preference on marshmallow toasted-ness, the end result is the same – huge smiles and full bellies. Enjoy your time today with family, friends, and the gooey goodness of s'mores!

WAYS TO CELEBRATE NATIONAL S'MORES DAY

- Go camping - The best place to be today is around a campfire, preferably in the woods with family and friends. Did you know, 50% of the marshmallows sold during the summer are toasted around the campfire? Today, raise a toasted marshmallow in honor of camping's favorite treat.
- Host a s'mores bar - Invite friends over for a night around your fire pit to enjoy a s'mores bar. Make a beautiful spread of the main ingredients but have a few surprise additions such as strawberries, raspberries, sprinkles, various chocolate chips, and chocolate sauce for drizzling. Did we mention you can buy chocolate stuffed marshmallows now? A sure-(camp)fire crowd-pleaser!
- Try unique s'mores-themed foods - We live in the age of 'limited edition flavors' of every snack food known to man. S'mores is a wildly popular flavor so look for a few of these to sample as a tasty twist on classic treats like: muffins, cereal, cookies, candy bars, ice cream, trail mix, donuts, and granola bars. And, we've likely missed a few!

5 FUN FACTS ABOUT S'MORES

1. Favorite time of year to eat s'mores - While 41% of people surveyed in a recent study enjoy s'mores most during the summer, the 20% die-hards enjoy them year-round.
2. The best part of the process - It's no surprise that 60% of people say roasting marshmallows is the best part of creating the perfect s'more.
3. A camping tradition - 31% of those who have eaten s'mores have only made them over the campfire.
4. Have s'more fun - Over half of people surveyed in a study know of at least one alternative way of making s'mores instead of over a campfire.
5. A family favorite - 75% of parents say they enjoy s'mores with their kids during the summer.

NATIONAL MIDDLE CHILD DAY IS AUGUST 12

If you have siblings, you know the rivalry can get real. Middle children often get less attention from busy parents. But despite the commonly held belief that their insecurity and resentment carries on into adulthood, middle children actually develop some critical skills that help them become successful adults.

Whether or not "Middle Child Syndrome" is real, it's true that middle children, particularly in large families, can get overlooked in the hustle and bustle of daily life. Started in 1986 by Elizabeth Walker, National Middle Child Day celebrates our middle siblings and reminds us that each child is precious and important.

National Middle Child Day is observed to honor that in-between child in the family. The interesting thing is even larger families celebrate more than one middle child, too! Like every other year, National Middle Child Day 2022 will be celebrated on August 12th.

HISTORY OF NATIONAL MIDDLE CHILD DAY

Middle children have a reputation for being ignored by their family, consequently growing up resentful, withdrawn, and disaffected. Although research shows little correlation between birth order and personality, the stereotype has persisted in pop culture characters like Jan Brady, who epitomizes the embittered middle child.

In fact, middle children might have some distinct advantages in adult life. The skills they develop as the "forgotten" sibling often translate into important qualities like empathy, diplomacy, and flexibility. In fact, over half of U.S. presidents were middle children, along with many other successful leaders.

Resourceful and independent but also cooperative and patient, middle children often grow up to be good leaders and helpful teammates. They can negotiate a variety of personalities but also do well on their own, and are known as risk-takers and independent thinkers. Because they're frequently left to their own devices, middle children develop a self-sufficiency less common in their older and younger siblings.

Until the 1970s, American families had an average of 2.5 children. Today, due to modernization and economic and environmental pressures, fewer and fewer families have middle children, with the average American family having just under two kids.

National Middle Child Day began in 1986 as a way to celebrate the siblings who feel left out or unseen and give them a special day of their own. Until now, it's been celebrated on August 12.

Not everyone agrees on the holiday's date: the International Middle Child's Union, founded by Bruce Hopman, wants to change National Middle Child Day to July 2, which falls in the exact middle of the calendar year.

NATIONAL MIDDLE CHILD DAY ACTIVITIES

- Send your middle child or sibling a gift - Let them know you're thinking about them!
- Watch some episodes of your favorite TV middle child - Grab some popcorn and spend some time with your own kids. Take a family poll to see who your favorite TV middle sibling is, and watch a few episodes of that show.
- Get in touch with your siblings - Whether or not you have a middle child in your family, it's never a bad time to reach out to your siblings and say hello.

5 FASCINATING FACTS ABOUT MIDDLE CHILDREN

1. Abe Lincoln was a middle child - Over half of U.S. presidents, including John F. Kennedy, were middle children.
2. We see middle children as the peacemakers - In pop culture, middle children are often portrayed as the level-headed, responsible ones who quietly keep their siblings out of trouble. Think Malcolm Wilkerson, Michael Bluth, and Lisa Simpson.
3. TGIF Crossover - When Full House's middle daughter, Stephanie Tanner, feels self-conscious about wearing her new glasses, a guest star from another popular TGIF sitcom stops by to cheer her up and give her a lesson in self-confidence. That guest: Steve Urkel, the bespectacled neighbor from Family Matters.
4. "Marcia, Marcia, Marcia!" - Jan and Marcia Brady's rivalry wasn't just good on-screen chemistry; the two actresses didn't have a good relationship during filming, and today they're still not on speaking terms.
5. Bill Gates started programming as a teen - Microsoft co-founder, philanthropist, and middle child Bill Gates wrote his first computer program as a teenager. It was a version of tic-tac-toe.

NATIONAL MIDDLE CHILD DAY TIMELINE

WHY WE LOVE NATIONAL MIDDLE CHILD DAY

- Middle children are going extinct - Today, most women with children have two children or less—making middle children a quickly disappearing breed. Appreciate the middle children in your life now!
- Middle children make great diplomats - Because they have to navigate the social dynamics of large families growing up, middle children tend to develop strong negotiation skills.
- It reminds us to call our relatives - In today's busy world where people scatter far from their families, it's sometimes hard to remember to check in with relatives. National Middle Child Day gives us an opportunity to reach out to our siblings, children, or grandchildren.

The Wizard of Odds

The "Wizard of Odds" is a local casino maven who has firsthand and accurate inside information on the best and worst casino deals in Atlantic City. If you follow the Wizard's advice in patronizing the best and avoiding the worst casinos, your money will last longer, and you will have a better chance to win. This week's feature is about "Where and How to Win at Table Games"

If you want to have some fun playing casino table games and improve your chances of coming home a winner please consider the below-listed facts:

The first rule of thumb is to never gamble in an unregulated venue such as a cruise ship, reservation, or island. Stick with government-regulated casinos such as in New Jersey or Nevada which are your best choice not to be taken and relieved of your hard-earned money. Here are a few other precautions to be observed while considering where and how to gamble at table games:

The "Wheel of Fortune" AKA "Big Six" wheel casino game, some now automatic, takes over 50% of your money compared to Black Jack (BJ) which charges an average of 14% for the house with standard play. BJ can be beaten over time if you play perfect BJ strategy, count cards, and practice money management.

You can reduce the house hold percentage by half on roulette by seeking out a single "0" machine instead of a double "00" game.

Specialty games such as Spanish 21 will break your bank much faster than regular BJ.

Some table games with high-meter signs for a large win could be an advantage and chance for a big win, but you must shop around.

If you stick to the AC casinos offering the above table games, your gaming budget will last longer enabling more fun and perhaps some monetary reward, which is why we play in the first place. So dear readers, do enjoy this adult entertainment form, but do not become what P.T. calls a "sucker!"

Do not underestimate the importance of these recommendations. Play Smart & Good Luck!

Library Tennessee Avenue Improvement Project Has Begun

Construction work on the William K. Cheatham Building (Main Library) began Monday, June 27, as part of the Atlantic City Free Public Library Tennessee Avenue Improvement Project. The building, which opened in 1985 at 1 North Tennessee Ave., will receive extensive exterior repairs and upgrades this year as part of this project. The construction will begin with remodeling of the library's first-floor bathrooms and will later include cleaning the exterior limestone façade, demolition and replacement of the concrete stairs and sidewalk, improved lighting, signage, railings and new exterior doors. The library will remain open during construction, with the exception of a few days when demolition will require closing. The project is scheduled to be completed in fall 2022. The library's doors on Tennessee Avenue will remain closed to the public during this time. Those who want to enter the building must go to the Atlantic County Office doors on Atlantic Avenue and inform a security guard they are going to the library. Also, the library's 15-minute parking area will be unavailable, and there will be a lane closure on Tennessee Avenue until the project has been completed.

(Judy begins singing "Food Glorious Foooooooood!") Often, I discuss the various and awesome venues to grab the best bites. But seldom do I reflect on the various options when it comes to sweet endings. Which is, to be quite frank, abnormal and shameful for me, considering I used to make desserts for a living. So, I've decided to dedicate this entire thing to sweets ((#fatgirlproblems)).

Now, granted, I am a food traditionalist, in that I think courses should totally complement each other. I'm a believer of experiences, as opposed to grabbing dinner and then satiating that sweet fix at the end with something that has a potential mediocre factor. Not that I don't "grab dinner", because I do often, and usual end up with something sweet after that kind of has an argument with my dinner in my stomach. But I do think we deserve to "experience" food too. My point is... Dessert should in theory complement the savory goodness you just had prior, which, in general has become "the norm". It wasn't always the case. The history of desserts is more than just a mere recounting of the first ice cream cone, or the first-time meringue was served. Sweets date back to ancient civilizations where people enjoyed fruits and nuts candied with honey. However, desserts as are commonly known today became popular through an evolution of technology and culinary experimentation ((because science!!)). I'm going off topic. Apologies... below is a list of my most favorite sweet spots you might want to consider hitting whilst in town.

If you're looking for true boardwalk / carnival / high caloric goodness, then you should consider Funnel Cake House, located at 1307 Boardwalk, between Ocean and South Carolina Avenues. They offer everything from traditional funnel cakes and fried oreos to funnel cakes and fried oreos on steroids. That's right! You can order a funnel cake or fried oreo sundae! They also offer ice cream, water ice, gelato, and monster sundaes galore. Also note their milkshakes are pretty phenomenal. This straightforward sweet shop focuses on great quality staples and executes them perfectly each and every time. Check them out.

Another place you MUST check out is Ventnor No. 7311, located at, you guessed it, 7311 Ventnor Avenue. This small Coffee and Bake Shop specializes in small batch, carefully crafted sweet treats, focusing on cakes, sweet loaves and buns, scones, bars, biscotti, and ((as I clutch my pearls and bite my knuckle))pies. Their whipped cream is so delicious you can buy it by the pint! Owned by Restaurateur, Cookie till, and baker, Kim Richmond, Ventnor No. 7311 offers fresh and innovative baked items paired with fair-trade coffee and organic teas. As an added huzzah, everything is baked on site, including paleo, gluten-free and vegan options, which change daily, highlighting local seasonal ingredients. These ladies genuinely care about what they produce, and what you put in your bellies. And it's impossible after taking your first bite to not sense that. Go now.

I've mentioned this place in the past, regaling you with tales of my college days, and how my college mates and I would commandeer the dining room at Serendipity in NYC and randomly break out into song in multiple part harmony ((really sorry for everyone around us at the time dining... #theatrekidsaretheworst!)), and how super stoked I was they were opening a location here in Atlantic City. Well, I can say now, it is JUST like I remembered in NY. Famous for their Frrrozen Hot Chocolate ((that was not a stammer, that's how you spell it!)), their food is a New York Experience, comforting and delicious, and their desserts are the truest sweet ending to an awesome dining experience. From delicious cakes and whacky sundaes to iced and frozen beverages, and spiked dessert cocktails, they literally have it all. Go there post hence.

Lastly, I thought I'd break down my quick list of favorite singles. My favorite slice of Carrot Cake still goes to The Palm in the Tropicana. I don't know how they do it but it makes me swoon every time I have it. My favorite cannoli are at Angelo's Fairmont Tavern. If I could eat the by the fistful without drawing attention I would. My favorite red velvet anything goes to Kelsey's. My favorite Key Lime Pie is at Morton's The Steakhouse. THE best ricotta cheesecake within a 100-mile radius is at Chef Vola's ((unless you're in my kitchen... insert wink emoji here)). And this doesn't necessarily go into a category because it stands on its own, but when you get a chance go to Knife and Fork and try their Banana Chocolate Burrito. You guys! You'll thank me later.

And yes, I always name drop my job, and yes, we're celebrating our Apres Beach Happy Hour event this Sunday from 3 to 6 pm, and yes, it is totally awesome, but that's not what I'm going to talk about. I must mention our dessert. Our Deauville Doughnuts are out of this world. They're these light and fluffy puff balls of ricotta doughnut dough, fried to sheer perfection, rolled in cinnamon sugar to give that extra sweet crunch, and served with a Triple Sec Sabayan ((insert drool emoji here)). If I indulged as much as I really wanted to, I'd be 50 lbs. heavier because I would not be able to stop eating these. These are little sweet pillows sent from angels. Come and see for yourself.

That's all I got for now. Until next week, folks... #stayjersestrong!

"Christmas won't be Christmas without any presents," says Jo to her sisters Meg, Beth, and Amy in the opening line of "Little Women." The girls soon realize that Christmas won't be Christmas without their father, either. He's serving as a minister to the Union troops fighting in the Civil War.

On Monday, August 15 at 8:00 p.m., East Lynne Theater Company presents "Little Women" adapted from Louisa May Alcott's enduring novel by producing artistic director, Gayle Stahlhuth, for fourteen actors, ages 11-17 to perform as part of ELTC's 16th Annual Summer Student Workshop. The performance will be at The Cape May Presbyterian Church, 500 Hughes Street, where the company is in residence.

The Workshop is under the direction of Rob LeMaire, who has been working with children and young adults for over twenty-years. During the 1990's he coordinated Education Programs, including running the Junior Apprenticeship Program, at Historic Cold Spring Village. Since 2001, he has performed with ELTC, in shows including "Arsenic and Old Lace" and "Dracula." A few years ago, Rob began directing for the Ocean City High School Drama Guild, and in 2018, he, along with other Theater Education Directors, were honored by the New Jersey Theatre Alliance at its annual gala.

Assisting Rob is Andrew Lofredo, an Orlando-based performer, writer, and stage manager. Currently, he's performing in ELTC's "Who Am I This Time?," and in 2019 and 2020, was a production assistant for the company. He recently graduated from the University of Central Florida with a BFA in Musical Theater.

ELTC has a long-standing tradition of working with students and is the only nonprofit in South Jersey that has consistently conducted in-school and after-school theater residencies in Cape May County for the last twenty-one years. The company's artists-in-residence have taught acting and playwriting to fourth grade through high school students, culminating in admission-free performances for the community, in venues in Lower Township, Middle Township, Ocean City, Whitesboro, Cape May, West Cape May, and Wildwood.

Admission is free, but reservations are appreciated and may be made by calling the office at 609-834-5898 or e-mailing eastlynneco@aol.com. ## HOMEMADE DOG TREAT RECIPE

EASY DIY SWEET POTATO DOG CHEWS

INGREDIENTS:

- 2 Sweet Potatoes

INSTRUCTIONS:

Preheat your oven to 250F (130C). Line two baking sheets with parchment paper. Use a knife or mandoline to cut the sweet potato into slices. I sliced mine into coins because my dog is small, but if you have a bigger dog you could slice them lengthwise for larger chews. You don't want the pieces to be too thin, or they will just get crispy and not chewy, so make sure they are no thinner than 1/4 inch (see photos for reference). Arrange them in a single layer on the baking sheets and bake for 2 1/2 to 3 hours flipping once half way through until they are shrunken, dried out, and some pieces are a bit crispy, while others are a bit chewy. Let cool, then store in an air-tight container in the fridge for about 3 weeks.

ONE YEAR ANNIVERSARY THIS MONTH WITH EBBY

Submitted By
from The Wagging Tail

I was asked recently how Ebby was working out. For those who may not know her story, Ebby was brought to me at The Wagging Tail along with her very elderly and infirm house mate. Both human parents were hospitalized. Linda and I kept the two in the grooming shop for a few days during which they were both groomed. Linda took the old guy home with her, but he had to be euthanized two days later as he had very serious medical problems. Ebby came home with me though it was inconvenient timing as Bob had just had a hip replacement. I soon learned that Ebby was a fear biter. She bit Bob and opened his finger and he had to go on antibiotics because of his surgery. I was going to just foster her, but I learned that her "Dad" passed away and that the wife was not fond of "his" dog and perhaps was abusive. Whatever, it was now me or the guillotine because the shelter was not interested in a dog that would bite. She was put on prozac for a while and then I moved to CBD oil. The saving grace for Ebby was that our Maltese, Zoey, liked her. And they play very well with each other.

Ebby is much happier and relaxed now and adores me and likes Bob. For many months she kept to herself even though we encouraged her company. Now she is everywhere I am. Or hangs by Bob if I am not home. I can do a little rough play with her (she is very gentle with my hand in her mouth) and she will get on Bob's lap and give him kisses. We are still wary of what might instigate a growl from her. I was just dancing with her in the kitchen to Ed Sheehan's Bad Habits, holding up her front legs. Each time I let her down she came for more. However, two mornings ago when I invited her to come up on the bed with Zoey and me, I bent to kiss the top of her head and she growled. "Really?" I said, "You just growled at your mom?" We have instructed the grandchildren next door to not come in our yard without our permission in case she is out. She would not attack, she would be friendly, but not if they went to grab at her. She is still afraid of the sound a shipping tape gun makes when you pull the tape and crunching papers. Overall, she has much more confidence.

With the use of the air spray product "STOP THAT" I can get a harness on her. I close the neck Velcro part and slide that over her head. Then a little noisy spray and she'll put her front feet up on my thighs and I quickly Velcro under her stomach. Yet I am still anxious. I never could get a coat on her last winter (she got absolutely vicious) but I WILL this season. When the cooler weather starts, and now that my new knees feel stronger, we will go for a walk every day and she will have a harness on. Once she gets comfortable with the harness, it will be easier to transition to a Velcro closure coat. I am always rubbing her belly which she now loves, standing or rolling over, although I am on tenterhooks. I am hoping she'll be more accepting when I attach a Velcro coat band under her. I still cannot get the dried mucus from her eyes, and I have not been brave enough to brush her. I never had a dog, or cat, that I could not handle with authority and ease. I do love her and tell her many times a day.

Last week's article was about a 70-million-year-old mammal, the fascinating possum. hope you got to read it, if not it is on our face book page. All week I mentioned possums. Last night the dogs went crazy barking when I let them out. They high tailed it up to our upper deck and cornered, you guessed it, a possum! (I had my suspicions after all the dry cat food was gone (the night before.) Could it be the one from last year? After I got the dogs to come in, I found the possum crouched under the porch sofa. I put out some strawberries which it loved and then later sighted it on the cat climber eating the cat food again! I am going to bring home a bag of adult Wholesome brand cat food from the store which sells for around twenty dollars for 15 pounds. I cannot have this possum gobbling my more expensive food.

Thank you to all who comment that they enjoy my articles, and for supporting The Wagging Tail. Thanks for voting us BEST PET STORE OF THE JERSEY SHORE, and for helping to keep a local small business in business. At The Wagging Tail, our mission is healthy, happy pets.

2022 Black & White Ball Sponsorship

Resorts Hotel and Casino
October 29, 2022

We are incredibly excited to plan our first Black & White Ball in four years. This extraordinary evening will be cochaired by Jason and Jessica Goldstein and Brian K. Jackson and Michael Baker. We have so much to celebrate!

The COVID pandemic prevented us from honoring Martin H. Klein for his 50 years of service in 2020. This year, we will be able to offer an in-person tribute for his extraordinary service to Seashore Gardens Living Center. We also are celebrating 20 years on our beautiful campus in Galloway, 18 years of the Seashore Gardens Foundation under the Board Leadership of Richard Cohen, and 10 years of our therapeutic music and computer programs. We are excited to return to Resorts where the inaugural Ball was held, 10 years ago, and invite you to support and celebrate with us!

PPAWS - People & Puppies at Work for Sight "MEET THE PACK!"

Exposure Outing to the Beach

Elliot (Inga x Felix) has been accompanying his raisers to the beach ever since he was little. We never know where our pups are going to end up — they can be placed with someone anywhere in the US or Canada, and from there end up anywhere in the world (Seeing Eye dogs are the property of their visually impaired handler, so if the handler moves to Ecuador, or Switzerland, guess who's coming with?) Just like you prepare children with the skills to tackle obstacles, we prepare our puppies...plus they're just really cute beach companions.

PPAWS (People & Puppies at Work for Sight) is a dedicated group of local families from Atlantic and Cape May Counties, which raise puppies for The Seeing Eye. The Seeing Eye breeds puppies specifically to be guide dogs for the blind. Only dogs that are bred, raised and trained by The Seeing Eye have the right and privilege to be called "Seeing Eye Dogs." PPAWS is always looking for more people to help raise these amazing puppies. If you are interested, contact Peter at (609) 804-8774 for more information.

RIP CURRENTS

HOW TO AVOID & SURVIVE

A rip current is a specific kind of water current that can occur near beaches with breaking waves. A rip current is a strong, localized, and narrow current of water which moves directly away from the shore, cutting through the lines of breaking waves like a river running out to sea.

- Check water conditions before going in by looking at the local beach forecast before you leave for the beach and talking to the lifeguard at the beach.
- Only swim at a beach with lifeguards. The chances of drowning at a beach with lifeguards are 1 in 18 million (U.S. Lifesaving Association).
- Don't assume! Great weather for the beach does not always mean it's safe to swim or even play in the shallows. Rip currents often form on calm, sunny days.
- Moving at speeds of up to eight feet per second, rip currents can move faster than an Olympic swimmer.
- Panicked swimmers often try to counter a rip current by swimming straight back to shore—putting themselves at risk of drowning because of fatigue.
- Lifeguards rescue tens of thousands of people from rip currents in the U.S. every year, but it is estimated that 100 people are killed by rip currents annually.
- If caught in a rip current, don't fight it! Swim parallel to the shore and swim back to land at an angle.

Memories of Discovering the Music of Motown

by Joe Molineaux

From as far back as I can remember, music has been a constant in my life. Those who regularly read this column are more than aware that some of my influences and discovery of genres, artists and songs have morphed into content that I share weekly.

However, this week the loss of an incredible songwriter is the catalyst for the column. I read with sadness this week that Lamont Dozier of the mega-hit song writing trio of Holland-Dozier-Holland had died at the age of 81. The team wrote some of the most classic Motown songs for some incredible motor city artists. The impact of the songs created as part of Motown's rise still bring enjoyment and music memories to fans around the world.

My personal discovery of Motown started in the late 70's since I was not alive or listening to music during the incredible run and success on the Charts for Holland-Dozier-Holland that took place from 1963 to 1967. The songwriters were responsible for penning over two dozen top 10 songs during that period. Not being around for the birth of Motown meant I had some catching up to do. I fully immersed myself in listening to and learning about the "assembly line" American soul music that was created at a time when the Beatles and the British invasion were dominating the charts.

When I first heard the Temps (The Temptations), the Tops (The Four Tops), Smokey Robinson and the Supremes I was hooked. Of course, the radio listening, record purchasing and deep music research dive was sometime after I first heard a Motown song. That would have occurred much earlier when I first saw the Saturday morning Jackson 5 cartoons. The songs of the Jackson 5 interwoven with cartoons gave me an appreciation and the basis for the lifetime love of Motown. The song, "ABC" as simple and easy as "1,2,3..." still reminds me that my continued musical journey is as much research, discovery and education as it is pleasure and enjoyment.

As time went on, I discovered Marvin Gaye, Stevie Wonder, the Martha Reeves and the Vandellas and more. Classics like the Supremes' "You Can't Hurry Love", "Where Did Our Love Go", "You Keep Me Hanging On", and "Stop, In the Name of Love" or The Four Tops "It's the Same Old Song", "I Can't Help Myself" and "Reach Out I'll Be There" are just a few of the songs written by Holland-Dozier-Holland. They also wrote one of the hottest summer songs of all time with "(Love is Like a) Heat Wave" by Martha and the Vandellas.

When I discovered the Isley Brothers, I ended up finding one of my favorites all time Motown songs written by none other than Holland-Dozier-Holland. "This Old Heart of Mine (Is Weak For You)", is that song. It can be debated and has been that the Temps or Tops songs, the Supremes, Marvin Gaye, Stevie Wonder offering or even the early Jackson 5 had more commercially successful songs. I am not even sure why that Isley Brothers song tops my list.

Perhaps it is something in the music itself or the lyrics that strikes a chord. The song speaks to me about a feeling so strong that no matter what occurs you are still committed to a person/partner. A feeling so strong that the connection remains and returns despite time or distance. Looking back on life there was definitely a time when there was a sizable distance between myself and the amazing woman that was at the time and still is my partner in life.

So no matter what you list as your favorite Motown song, while we mourn the passing of an incredible songwriter that helped create so many amazing songs, take some time to celebrate and revisit the Holland-Dozier-Holland catalog. Until next time, keep listening to and discovering music!
