FROM THE HEART OF ATLANTIC COUNTY MAGAZINE

If you've spent a summer near the Jersey Shore's salt marshes, you've likely encountered one of its most remarkable residents—the diamondback terrapin. With their striking, patterned shells and determined crawl, these turtles are as much a part of the Shore's natural landscape as dune grasses and bay breezes. Each year, from late spring through summer, terrapins embark on a perilous journey that plays out along our back roads, bridges, and barrier islands.

A Journey for Survival - Diamondback terrapins are unique to coastal salt marshes and estuaries, making places like Atlantic and Cape May Counties critical habitat. From late May through July, female terrapins leave the safety of the marshes in search of sandy ground to lay their eggs. This often means crossing busy causeways, bridges, and bayfront roads—putting them at great risk.

You'll spot them most often after rainstorms or during high tides, when nesting instinct kicks into high gear. Brigantine, Ocean City, Sea Isle, and Wildwood Crest are among the many Shore towns where terrapins frequently attempt these crossings.

A Turtle with a History - In the 19th and early 20th centuries, diamondback terrapins were hunted nearly to extinction. Terrapin stew was a luxury dish, and demand was so high that East Coast populations—including those in New Jersey—were decimated. Fortunately, as tastes changed and conservation efforts took hold, terrapins gained protection and became a symbol of the Shore's natural heritage rather than a menu item.

Why Terrapins Matter - Terrapins play a key role in maintaining healthy salt marsh ecosystems. They help control snail and crab populations and serve as prey for larger animals. Their presence reflects the health of our wetlands—critical natural buffers that protect our coastlines.

Road Warriors of the Wetlands: The Diamondback Terrapins of The Jersey Shore

Turtle Etiquette: How You Can Help

- ☑ Slow down and stay alert in terrapin crossing zones - Reduce your speed on causeways, marsh roads, and near posted crossing signs. Be especially watchful for the subtle sight of a turtle slowly moving along the shoulder or just starting to enter the roadway. Their low profile and slow pace make them easy to miss at a glance.
- ☑ If you see a turtle crossing, stop safely - Put your car in park, engage your hazard lights, and ensure it's safe before exiting your vehicle.
- ☑ Make eye contact with oncoming drivers - Confirm that drivers in both directions are aware you're assisting and have stopped.
- ☑ Assist confidently and securely - Gently grasp the turtle by the sides of its shell, keeping your fingers in the center, away from its claws. Be aware that some terrapins will retreat into their shells, making for an easy carry, while others will flail their legs and "run" in the air. Their spiky claws can scratch or startle you, so be prepared and hold on firmly. The key is not to drop the turtle - move it calmly and steadily across the road.
- ☑ Move it in the direction it was headed - Even if it's going away from the water, that's where it needs to go to nest.
- ☑ Place it on a natural surface - Grass or sand beyond the road's edge is ideal.
- ☑ Never relocate or take a terrapin home - These are wild animals with specific nesting and habitat needs.

A Shared Responsibility - Diamondback terrapins are resilient survivors with a remarkable history. But today, their greatest threats come from cars and habitat loss. By staying alert, showing care, and helping safely, we can ensure these ancient mariners continue to grace our marshes for generations to come.

HOROSCOPE

JUNE 19 - JUNE 25, 2025

ARIES (Mar. 21-April 20)

This week, patience is your secret weapon as delays or detours test your resolve. A creative solution will help you outpace the competition. Keep your cool, and you'll come out ahead.

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21)

Comfort zones feel tempting, but real growth comes from stretching. A new idea or connection could shift your priorities. Stay grounded, but don't cling too tightly to the familiar.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)

Your curiosity is in overdrive, but try not to scatter your energy in too many directions. A key conversation brings clarity midweek. Focus sharpens when you slow down long enough to listen.

CANCER (June 22-July 22)

Money, time, or energy—it's time to take stock of your resources. A small change could lead to big results. Trust yourself to make the right call, even if it feels risky.

LEO (July 23-Aug 22)

Your confidence shines, and others are drawn to your warmth. Just be mindful not to take on more than you can handle. A little humility goes a long way this week.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 23)

Your inner world is busy, and reflection brings valuable insight. Don't rush to act; let ideas mature. A quiet win midweek reminds you that progress isn't always loud.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)

Your social life hums with energy, and teamwork brings unexpected rewards. Say yes to collaborations, but don't lose sight of your own vision. Balance is everything now.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)

You're laser-focused on a goal, and your determination is magnetic. Just watch for tunnel vision—other paths may hold hidden gifts. Stay open, even as you aim high.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)

Adventure calls, whether it's a new trip, a new book, or a new belief. Follow the spark, but don't burn out chasing it. Inspiration needs fuel—and rest.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22.- Jan. 20)

This week invites you to go deeper—whether in a partnership, a project, or with yourself. Power dynamics may surface; handle them with grace. What you build now has staying power.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)

Partnerships take the spotlight, and connection strengthens when you meet others halfway. A creative compromise could be the key. Let dialogue lead the way.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)

Your focus shifts to well-being—mind, body, and spirit. Small, thoughtful changes will have a ripple effect. Nurture yourself now, and everything else flows more easily.

This Sunday, June 22, Atlantic City will mark its first-ever Great Pride Festival, a vibrant celebration of love, identity, and community set against the familiar backdrop of O'Donnell Park and The ByrdCage on Atlantic Avenue. Brought to life by organizers from The ByrdCage, the City of Atlantic City, and the Miss'd America Pageant, the event—running from noon to 7 p.m.—showcases the city's LGBTQ+ heartbeat with music, vendors, artistry, and empowerment in full technicolor.

As parade-goers arrive, a ribbon of color spills from The ByrdCage—the city's first LGBTQ+ owned restaurant and lounge since 2002—onto Atlantic Avenue. The centerpiece? A massive 400-foot Progress Pride Rainbow flag led by the Philadelphia Freedom Marching Band and Color Guard, setting the tone for an afternoon of celebration rooted in visibility and defiant joy.

With Atlantic Avenue pedestrianized between Boston and Providence Avenues, the festival transforms into an outdoor celebration corridor. Attendees can dance to live bands, take in DJ sets, browse craft vendors, enjoy a children's zone, and sample fare from local food trucks. A series of drag performances—produced by Miss'd America—serves up laughter and flair for audiences of all ages.

According to the festival's organizers, "This festival is more than a party—it's a powerful symbol of visibility, love, and community," speaking to the event's deeper purpose. In a national climate where LGBTQ+ rights face growing challenges, this gathering offers affirmation made loud, colorful, and collective.

Afterparty at The ByrdCage

The celebrations continue after dark back at The ByrdCage—an evening gathering promising music, dancing, and camaraderie. The space, opened early in 2025 as Atlantic City's first permanent gay-owned venue, pulses with intentional inclusivity and pride-fueled energy.

Inclusivity at the Core - The event's sponsors include the LGBTQIA+ Liaison Office, Multicultural Services, the Miss'd America Pageant, The ByrdCage, and the City of Atlantic City—all lending support to a vision of community-wide celebration.

With free admission and street parking available on Boston Avenue, festival coordinators are emphasizing accessibility—welcoming families, allies, and visitors in a show of open, open-hearted celebration.

A Moment in History - Atlantic City has long been a haven for LGBTQ+ people—ranging from its days as a summer destination for queer revelers to the emergence of venues like The ByrdCage. The launch of this festival marks a new chapter in its history, rooted in pride, resilience, and shared experience.

Quick Details

- What: The Great Pride Festival featuring live music, drag shows, family activities, food trucks, and crafts
- When: Sunday, June 22, 12–7p.m.

HEALTHFUL LIVING

A Weekly Guide to Health Awareness

YOGA POSE OF THE WEEK - Seated Forward Bend (Paschimottanasana)

There are many hamstring stretches in beginning yoga for a good reason. The hamstrings tend to get short and tight in people who sit a lot, which can contribute to lower back pain. Stretching them as you do in the Seated Forward Bend is helpful.

This yoga pose offers a stretch to the entire back of the body. Bend at your hips, not your waist, and keep your neck aligned with your spine.

VITAMIN HIGHLIGHT - Vitamin A

One type comes from animal sources of food. It helps you see at night, make red blood cells, and fight off infections. The other type is in plant foods.

It helps prevent damage to cells and an eye problem called age-related macular degeneration. Eat orange veggies and fruits like sweet potato and cantaloupe, spinach and other greens, dairy foods, and seafood such as shrimp and salmon.

The Longest Day (Summer Solstice) is observed on either June 20, 21, or 22, but this year, it falls on June 21. The timing shifts because it depends on when the Sun reaches its northernmost point from the celestial equator.

As the sun creeps up over the hills and into your town on June 21, you'll know it's here. That blessed time of year when barbecues and beach trips reign, when work slows and summer holidays mean getting together with friends and family. Just thinking about it likely brings up the smell of fresh cut grass and the taste of cold lemonade. Summer Solstice — also known as the first day of summer — has arrived.

It signals the start of astronomical summer. As a result, the days get shorter as summer progresses, first gradually but then at increasingly larger daily intervals as the September equinox approaches and ushers in the beginning of fall. Because the Sun travels across the sky in its most elongated path during the summer solstice, that day has the most daylight hours. (We interrupt this poetic paragraph to remind you that this applies only to those living north of the equator.)

Now then — people have celebrated this day for thousands of years. Some of the earliest party animals were the ancient Mesopotamians, Celtic Druids, Chinese, and Egyptians, and all of these cultures had their own ways of celebrating that make even our craziest backyard barbecues look tame. When was the last time you had a multi-story bonfire and danced around it naked? That's what we thought. But cultures have had good reason to celebrate since ancient times right up until today.

It's the longest day of the year. Enjoy!

Oh, and Dairy Queens are celebrating today by giving away free cones (with any purchase) all day long! Download their mobile app for details.

History of Summer Solstice

The day of the summer solstice, which occurs when the Sun is at its farthest distant point from the equator, is also the day that is considered to be the longest of the year. Since the Neolithic era, this day has been observed as the summer solstice, also known as the summer's midpoint.

In the Neolithic cultures of Northern and Central Europe, the dates of the crop cycles were associated with the summer solstice. People in Celtic, Slavic, and Germanic cultures traditionally celebrated it by lighting bonfires to bolster the Sun's vigor for the duration of the crop season and ensure a healthy harvest.

Numerous Neolithic stone circles appear to have been constructed around the Sun's movement at solstices. However, because there are no written accounts from this time period, determining the exact purpose of these rock edifices is difficult. On the other hand, the stones appear to be carefully positioned to align with the Sun's movements, framing solar motion on the summer and winter solstices.

Stones at specific solstice axes were even hammerstones to frame the sunrise for those standing in the center of the circle. This suggests that the alignment of the stones with the Sun's motions was intentional. The summer solstice was regarded as a significant cultural event in many ancient communities.

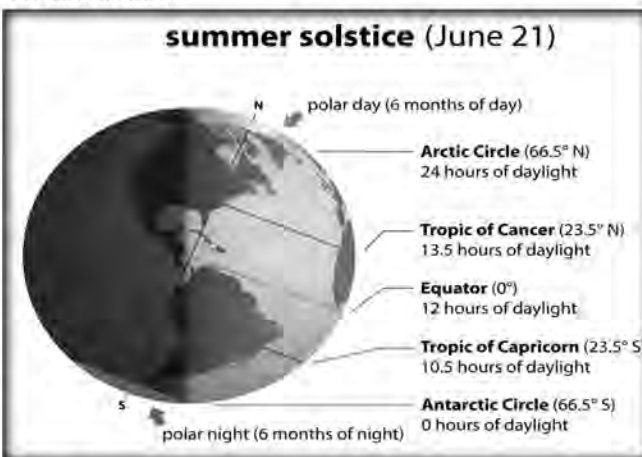

In Ancient Egypt, June Solstice helped the Egyptian tribes predict the annual flooding, as this day corresponded to the rise of the Nile River. They used this day as a marker to schedule their planting and harvesting of crops.

Different tribes and religions around the world also observed June Solstice in cultural and faith-based traditions. In Northern Europe, they refer to it as 'midsummer,' while other neo-pagan religions such as Wiccans refer to it as 'litha.' Christians and Catholics used this day to commemorate St. John's Day in observance of John the Baptist's birthday. On the other hand, Ancient Romans counted the days leading up to June Solstice for the celebration of Vestalia, a religious festival to honor Vesta, the goddess of the hearth.

In modern times, June Solstice marks the one-month countdown to the Olympic games opening. This was based on the ancient Greek calendars, where Summer Solstice marked the beginning of the year.

Summer Solstice Activities

- Don't miss a minute - Yes, this requires waking up early — very early — but don't let that stop you. This actually starts the day before by making a list of everything you want to accomplish on June 21. Try to wake up before the sunrise, and find a place to watch it. Then, go about completing your list. Don't rush too much; you've got plenty of time today. Then, find a spot to watch the sun go back down. It may only be by a few seconds, but you just successfully spent the longest day of the year being extremely productive.
- Get outside - All over the world, one of the most common ways to celebrate Summer Solstice is to spend it outside. Take the family camping, have a cookout with your best friends, make a slip'n slide in the yard for the kids. All of these are surefire ways to take full advantage of the prolonged sunlight. Eat outside and enjoy the beauty of the world around you. An outdoor gathering might be joyous, but a change of location can be just as enjoyable. Get the family together and visit a park or the beach for a barbecue or a picnic.
- Do as the ancients did - If you're up for a crazy party, do some research into how ancient cultures welcomed the summer season, and host a party with more or less the same celebrations. For example, if you wanted to emulate Northern European culture, you could throw a Litha party. Eat fresh fruit and vegetables that are ready for picking at this time of year, have a giant bonfire of oak and dance wildly around a maypole. Encourage ancient-era clothing for a really memorable, albeit strange, Summer Solstice celebration. You can stay up and gaze at the stars. If this is your first time, you can borrow a book or download an app to assist you in spotting the constellations.

Why We Love Summer Solstice

- Welcome the dog days - School's out, and for many businesses, summer also marks a slowdown period. Perhaps we leave the office a little earlier, or our schedules aren't packed quite as full with meetings. We plan family vacations and take extended time off, which research has shown is a critical part of staying focused and committed to your work when things aren't so slow. It's a time for rest, relaxation, and rejuvenation.
- Bring on the night picnics - Night picnics are popular in the southern hemisphere during June Solstice. Longer nights mean longer conversations with friends and a longer time to rest before the next day!
- It is the longest day of the year - Who doesn't love a long day? Today is the longest day, and you get to soak up more sun while enjoying the day with family and friends. So seize this day by enjoying the outdoors on a picnic. Pack your favorite snacks, grab a book, and bathe under the cozy, warm sun.

Greater Atlantic City Concierge Association's Spotlight:

Dock's Oyster House

Submitted by: Judy Brenna, GACCA Communications Director
Catering & Events Director, Blue Dog Hospitality Group

Name of venue: Dock's Oyster House

Where are you located? 2405 Atlantic Avenue in Atlantic City

Hours of Operation: We are open nightly starting at 4 pm, with Happy Hour daily from 4 to 6 pm!

Parking tips: Dock's Oyster House in Atlantic City offers several free parking options for diners. These include a free valet service, a free parking lot adjacent to the restaurant, and free street parking (though some side streets may have meters).

Tell us a little about your place! Our culinary journey began over 125 years ago! In 1897, Harry "call me Dock" Dougherty believed there was a great opportunity in Atlantic City to open a restaurant that would serve the finest seafood available in a clean, comfortable and friendly atmosphere. And so he opened Dock's Oyster House, with 60 seats, no liquor license and very high standards. Dock's quickly became a favorite of locals and tourists alike, with lines often forming out the door on Atlantic Avenue (and at the back door for those in the know). Four generations later, and with revamps and renovation every 15 years or so, Dock's now has a state of the art kitchen, a lounge, and more seating, with an upscale air.

What is the current reason one MUST visit your venue? Our Happy Hour and Raw Bar! With updated selections daily at our Raw Bar, you can savor the bites straight from the sea. From crisp oysters, ceviches, crudo, and combination platters, we can satiate any palate. And we've become very well know for our Happy Hour. Offered 7 days a week, you can enjoy every appetizer at half the price!

Why is your venue necessary for Atlantic City? Dock's Oyster House is an Atlantic City OG! Steeped in history, and still going stronger than ever, we have been know to attract diners from around the tristate area, perpetuating the constant need for tourism in this city. We also participate as much as we can with city events to drum up tourism like the Atlantic City Restaurant Gala and Restaurant Week!

Tell us a little bit about your sister properties: We offer several options for your dining experience. Another Atlantic City OG, Knife and Fork at 3600 Atlantic Avenue, Dougherty's Steakhouse in Resorts Casino, where steaks and chops are at the forefront, and Linwood Country Club at 500 Shore Road in Linwood, NJ.

Do you have a secret favorite you wish to share? We have two. Our Maine Chowder; it's like the New England version but only better. And our Crispy Wasabi Tuna with a stir fry of Asian vegetables, jasmine rice, and a ponzu sauce that's to die for.

Is there any other information you'd like to share? Dock's Oyster House offers a unique dining experience in an iconic Atlantic City establishment. With private and semi-private rooms, we can offer the perfect spot for any event—anniversary or birthday party, business dinner, bachelor or bachelorette party, rehearsal dinner, bridal or baby shower, or even an intimate wedding! Our exquisite menus and professional service will make any occasion an event to remember!

International Surfing Day is celebrated on the third Saturday in June and takes place on June 21 this year. It is an environmentally-conscious holiday that celebrates surfing and the sustainability of ocean resources. It also promotes surfing and encourages more people to dive into this fun sport. Surfing can be traced back about 5,000 years and is not just a sport but a hobby and a lifestyle; it's a pastime found on all populated continents.

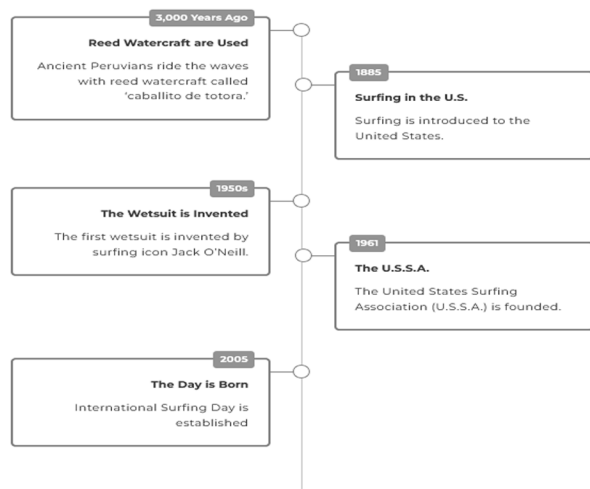

HISTORY OF INTERNATIONAL SURFING DAY

International Surfing Day was initiated in 2005 by "Surfing Magazine" and the Surfrider Foundation. The holiday was created to promote the sport of surfing, as well as educate people about the negative impact of their activities on the ocean and the environment. On International Surfing Day, various activities are held, such as surfing contests, barbecues, and other fun surf-centered activities. Several groups also organize beach clean-ups and other restorative activities as a way of contributing positively to the environment.

Body-surfing has likely existed since humans began swimming in the ocean. However, surfing with the assistance of apparatus has been traced to the ancient cultures of Peru, where people surfed on reed watercraft for recreational and fishing purposes. Modern surfing with the use of surfboards, however, originates from pre-colonial Hawaii, which was introduced to the innovation by the Polynesians. Written evidence of surfing in Polynesia can be found in the journal of Joseph Banks during his stay in Tahiti in 1769. In Hawaii, surfing became more than a hobby or sport, moving into the realm of religion, culture, and art. It was referred to as 'he'e nalu,' meaning "wave sliding." Before surfing, the people would pray to the gods for protection and strength. The making of surfboards also required the assistance of a priest.

According to historians Kim Stoner and Geoff Dunn, surfing made its debut in the United States in July 1885 when four teenage Hawaiian princes arrived in California. David Kawananakoa, Edward Keli'iahonu, Jonah Kūhiō Kalaniana'ole, and Elle Mancini all surfed at the San Lorenzo River on redwood boards. In 1961, the United States Surfing Association was established, arguably becoming the first professional surfing contest organization in the world. Today, surfing is not just a sport but a lifestyle, which can now be found on all populated continents.

INTERNATIONAL SURFING DAY TIMELINE

INTERNATIONAL SURFING DAY ACTIVITIES

- Go surfing - There's no better way to celebrate International Surfing Day than to just do it! Go surfing and experience the thrill of the sport.
- Organize a beach clean-up - Protect the environment by organizing a beach clean-up to get rid of pollutants that might contaminate the ocean. Let's keep our environment clean and healthy.
- Buy a surf-themed item - On this day, buy a cheesy surf-themed item as a reminder of International Surfing Day. Whether it's a shirt with an inspiring caption or a miniature surfboard, get yourself — or someone else — a lovely item.

5 IMPORTANT FACTS ABOUT THE OCEAN

- 1 - There is only one ocean - The world has only one ocean, which is divided into five interconnected ocean basins, namely the Atlantic, the Pacific, the Indian, the Arctic, and the Southern Ocean.
- 2 - The ocean is extremely large - The ocean covers over 70% of the Earth's surface.
- 3 - Most animals are in the ocean - About 94% of all the living creatures on Earth can be found in the ocean.
- 4 - More artifacts than museums - Due to the number of shipwrecks that occur, the ocean has more historical artifacts than all museums in the world.
- 5 - There are many islands - In the entire world, there are believed to be over 670,000 islands.

WHY WE LOVE INTERNATIONAL SURFING DAY

- It celebrates surfing - International Surfing Day is a fun opportunity to let loose. Why not join in celebrating one of the most-loved sports in the world?
- It creates environmental awareness - The awareness activities on International Surfing Day remind us how important it is to protect our environment from pollution and other detrimental activities. It provides an avenue to discuss how pollution impacts our daily lives. We have only one planet and we must protect it.
- It preserves the ocean - Beach clean-up activities are small but important ways of protecting and preserving our ocean. Getting rid of the debris, dirt, and litter on the beach helps keep our ocean clean.

INTERNATIONAL SURFING DAY BRINGS OCEAN CELEBRATION TO ATLANTIC COUNTY

Every June 21, ocean lovers worldwide pay tribute to wave culture, coastal stewardship, and surfing's unifying spirit with International Surfing Day—a day originally launched by Surfer magazine and the Surfrider Foundation in 2005. The global event blends surf sessions with beach cleanups and awareness campaigns, highlighting the bond between coastal communities and the seascape they call home.

This year, Atlantic County is riding that wave close to home. Two standout events are planned for Saturday, June 21, showcasing not only the thrill of surfing, but also the Shore's commitment to inclusivity and environmental care:

Surf Sessions & Shore Stewardship: Ventnor Beach (12-5PM) A pop-up celebration at Ventnor Beach (near Cambridge Avenue) invites surfers and supporters to dive into lessons led by Heritage Surf and Ventnor Surf School. As surfboards glide across the waves, volunteers will collect trash during a beach cleanup. Complimentary wellness activities—think Pilates or stretch sessions—round out an afternoon that honors the ocean by protecting it. Contact the Ventnor Beach Lifeguard Headquarters for info: 609-823-7948.

Surf for All: Adaptive Event at Jackson Ave, Atlantic City (9AM-12PM) On Jackson Avenue Beach, Heart of Surfing, with support from HardRock Hotel & Casino, offers an accessible surf experience for individuals with autism and developmental differences. Free adaptive surf lessons empower participants and their families to connect with the ocean in a supportive, welcoming environment. To participate or volunteer: Email mail@heartof-surfing.org or text 609-705-5323 to secure a spot or learn about volunteer opportunities.

These local celebrations echo the broader mission of International Surfing Day: to celebrate surfing culture, protect coastal environments, and bring diverse communities together through the power of the ocean. From youth waves to adaptive boards, Atlantic County is turning global momentum into local impact—merging surf, service, and solidarity on the sand.

Gail & Ava

Public speaker, author, blogger, singer, musician, music teacher, and former Ms. Colorado Senior America, Gail Hamilton has another credit to her long list of accomplishments: Seeing Eye graduate!

Gail often travels with Ava, her sixth Seeing Eye dog, for public speaking engagements, musical performances, and other events. “I have always been independent,” she said. “If you tell me another blind person has done it, then that means I can do it, too!”

The photo shows Gail with Ava, a yellow Labrador/golden retriever cross in harness, at her feet in a school classroom. Gail is playing the autoharp, a stringed musical instrument that lays across her lap.

And while Gail — who has a master’s degree in psychology and counseling — is no longer a practicing therapist, she still often gives advice to her friends... or strangers!

“You can’t take the therapist out of me any more than you could take the musician out of me,” Gail said. “I want to share hope and whatever insight I have, and to let people know they’re not alone. We only have a very short life here. Don’t be afraid to do the thing you want to do.”

PPAWS - People & Puppies at Work for Sight "MEET THE PACK!"

97 YEARS AGO...

97 years ago, on June 11, 1928, Morris Frank stepped off a ship in New York City with Buddy, the first Seeing Eye® dog, and made history. Just weeks earlier, Frank had traveled to Switzerland to train with Buddy at a pioneering guide dog school founded by Dorothy Harrison Eustis, an American dog trainer and philanthropist living abroad. Inspired by her article about guide dogs in The Saturday Evening Post, Frank had written to her with a simple goal: to prove that blind Americans could live independent lives.

In front of a crowd of skeptical reporters, Frank and Buddy successfully navigated a dangerous Manhattan street crossing—demonstrating not only Buddy's training, but the revolutionary potential of the human-canine partnership. Afterward, Frank sent Eustis a one-word telegram that said it all: "Success."

The moment helped launch The Seeing Eye, co-founded by Frank and Eustis in 1929, becoming the first guide dog school in the United States—and a lasting symbol of independence, dignity, and trust.

PPAWS (People & Puppies at Work for Sight) is a dedicated group of local families from Atlantic and Cape May Counties, which raise these amazing puppies for The Seeing Eye. Until a Seeing Eye dog is ready for training, he or she lives with a puppy raising or foster family that gives the dog love, gentle guidance, and consistent care. These volunteers nurture their puppy to accomplish its special destiny. If you are interested in raising a puppy for The Seeing Eye, call Peter at (609)804-8774 or visit seeingeye.org/raise for info.

Fresh Picks & Flavorful Finds: Atlantic County's Peak Season This Week

Atlantic County farmers' markets are exploding with summer's bounty this week. Sun-ripe strawberries and blueberries lead the charge, with leafy greens, tomatoes, corn, and herbs in vibrant abundance. There's no better time to visit the open-air stalls—from Ventnor's Friday market to Linwood and Somers Point—than right now, when every vendor brims with Jersey Fresh goodness.

Blueberry season is officially underway in nearby Hammonton, known as the "Blueberry Capital of the World." Pick-your-own farms are open June 15–July 15—harvest ripe, plump berries at just $3 per pound. Strawberries are still shining bright, their fleeting sweetness at its peak. And don't overlook corn, squash, peppers, and fresh basil—summery staples making a strong market presence.

To celebrate the harvest, here are two recipes that highlight local ingredients in fresh and inventive ways:

Blueberry-Lime Shrub Mocktail

This vibrant, non-alcoholic shrub delivers summer in a glass—bright, tangy, and deeply refreshing.

Ingredients:

- 1 cup Atlantic County blueberries
- Zest and juice of 1 lime
- ½ cup sugar
- ½ cup apple cider vinegar
- Club soda
- Ice

Instructions: In a saucepan, combine blueberries, lime juice, zest, and sugar. Muddle gently. Heat over low until the sugar dissolves, then cool. Stir in vinegar and refrigerate until chilled. Strain into a pitcher. To serve, fill glasses with ice, mix 2 tbsp shrub with club soda, and garnish with a lime wheel.

Why it shines: Strawberry and blueberry season? Shrub is a perfect use—preserving peak fruit in a sipable, sophisticated format. It's local flavor beyond smoothies or sorbet—and bursting with vitamin C and antioxidants.

Multi-Grain Tomato & Herb Galette

Rustic, handheld, and bursting with summer flavors—a savory tribute to peak-season tomatoes and herbs.

Ingredients:

- 1 sheet pre-made whole-wheat puff pastry
- 1 cup heirloom tomatoes, sliced
- 1 small zucchini, thinly sliced
- 1/4 cup ricotta or chèvre
- 1/4 cup chopped fresh basil
- 1 tsp fresh thyme
- Salt, pepper, olive oil

Instructions: Preheat oven to 400°F. Roll pastry on parchment, leaving a 1" border. Mix ricotta with half the basil, herbs, salt, and pepper. Spread ricotta base over pastry, then layer tomatoes and zucchini. Fold edges over filling, brush crust with olive oil, and bake 25–30 min until golden. Sprinkle remaining basil before serving.

Why it works: This galette showcases midsummer heirloom tomatoes and fresh herbs in a flaky, hand-held form. It's easy dinner material—perfect for pairing with local markets or a summer cocktail.

Peak Season Tips

- ~ Arrive early for the best selection—midmorning picks tend to be the sweetest
- ~ Talk to your farmers—they know which herbs are popping and how best to store garlic scapes, peppers, or summer squash.
- ~ Buy in bulk and prep ahead. Blanch beans, roast corn, or freeze extra berries for smoothies later.

Atlantic County's markets are a burst of color, flavor, and community this week. These recipes make the most of what's fresh—with minimal fuss and maximum taste. Now's your chance to savor summer at its peak.

Black Sun Rising by Otho Eskin

When Washington, DC, homicide detective Marko Zorn's partner is murdered, his search for justice leads him deep into Black Sun, a violent neo-Nazi movement built from the ruins of WWII's most sinister forces. Their goal: unleash a catastrophic attack that will plunge the nation into chaos.

To stop them, Marko must confront a conspiracy stretching from Washington's corridors of power to the shadows of the city's underworld. Can Marko save the country from annihilation?

A pulse-pounding thriller in the tradition of Baldacci, Clancy, and Patterson, Black Sun Rising delivers relentless suspense, razor-sharp political intrigue, and a chillingly timely story of unchecked hatred — and the one man willing to risk everything to stop it. Black Sun Rising is the fourth book in Otho Eskin's Marko Zorn series and can be read as a stand-alone or as a part of the series. Gone Dark by Ryan Steck

Late-summer wildfires are a fact of life in Montana. But as an inferno nears Wellington, Matthew Redd gets the unusual call that a team of smoke jumpers has suddenly gone dark. As head of the county's fledgling search and rescue team, Redd drops into the fire zone and finds more than he bargained for: a killer has taken out the smoke jumper team along with two civilians, and only a terrified young boy is left as witness. Redd and little Jack narrowly escape the raging fire, and Redd calls in the acting director of the FBI to investigate the bigger forces at play.

In this pulse-pounding thriller, former Marine Raider Matthew Redd, "a force to be reckoned with" (Jack Carr) and "the go-to man in a bad situation" (Brad Taylor), must face his greatest fears and figure out how to escape when the one way out goes up in flames. Patriotism: Unhinged 1963-2024 by James Manning

Patriotism: Unhinged 1963-2024 is a non-fiction historical treatise on the JFK Assassination. It was written for people who know nothing about it, people who think they know everything about it and for everybody in between. As a young Marine, Jim Manning saw hidden evidence that would prove Lee Harvey Oswald innocent of all charges in the case. Soon after revealing what he saw, Jim's life was threatened, and he spent the next 55 years as a Kennedy investigator. As the years went by, he concentrated on evidence that had been covered up by the CIA's Propaganda Section. Now, he reveals the evidence marked top secret that was taken from Langley to bring out the truth.

Patriotism: Unhinged 1963-2024 exonerates Lee Oswald of all charges, and explains the who, the why and how it was orchestrated by the top intelligence agencies. Purchase at <https://amzn.to/457FKJS>.

Taking the Stairs & Liking It: Seven Steps to an Amazing Life by Lauren Speeth, PhD

Drawing on a lifetime of personal experience, Taking the Stairs and Liking It inspires readers to find joy through a life of purpose, coherence and significance. The counsel laid out within these pages has its lineage from author Lauren Speeth's serendipitous interview with President Jimmy Carter. The former President's words to Speeth changed the course of her life. Speeth delved deeply into what President Carter shared with her, developing a methodology based on his offerings, and, having put these ideas to the test, she traveled the world teaching them. All the while, Speeth was putting Carter's fundamental precepts into practice in her personal life without realizing it.

Within these pages, readers will find that they can achieve their dreams, regardless of the present obstacles, as Speeth provides a pathway for making a positive impact on the world while leading a richer, more joyous and fulfilling life. Purchase at <https://amzn.to/45wxbUt>.
