Atlantic City Fight Nights: The Brawls Are Back on the Boardwalk

Boxing, grappling, and next-gen MMA light up the Shore July 25–26

There's something in the air on the Atlantic City boardwalk this summer - and it's not just the sea breeze or the sizzle of street vendors. It's the unmistakable energy of a fight town returning to form. From world-class boxing to elite submission grappling and a brand-new MMA showcase, July 25 and 26 mark a full-fledged combat sports takeover in America's original fight capital.

Whether you're a fan of fists flying, submissions snapping, or scouting the sport's next breakout star, this is the weekend Atlantic City fights back - and invites the crowd to scream along.

Friday, July 25 – Two Fight Cards, Two Different Worlds

Boxing Insider Fight Night @ Tropicana Showroom – 7:00 PM

At the Trop, the gloves come off - and then they go right back on. Boxing Insider Promotions returns to the Tropicana with a stacked lineup of professional bouts that bring both international firepower and homegrown heart.

In the main event, undefeated American flyweight Andy Dominguez (11–0) puts his perfect record on the line against seasoned Nicaraguan former world champion Byron "Gallito" Rojas (29–6–3). The WBC Silver Junior Flyweight Title is on the line in what promises to be a fast-paced, high-skill battle. Dominguez fights with the confidence of a prospect on the rise, while Rojas—gritty, technical, and battle-tested—has upset more than one unbeaten fighter before.

The undercard features familiar names for local fans. Bruce Seldon Jr., son of Atlantic City's own former heavyweight champ, looks to continue his journey in the sport his father once ruled from the very same town. Meanwhile, Julio Sanchez III, a proud product of Atlantic City's boxing scene, brings his signature aggression and fan-friendly style back to the local spotlight.

Also on the bill: Daiyaan Butt, a sharp Philly talent with slick hands and rising momentum, Jacob Solis, and heavyweights Roney Hines vs. Devin Vargas, a classic puncher's matchup that could end in a single swing.

CCFC BJJ 14 @ Hard Rock's Sound Waves – 7:00 PM

Just a few blocks away, things get quieter - but no less brutal.

Cage Fury Fighting Championships (CCFC) hosts its 14th Brazilian Jiu-Jitsu showcase in the intimate Sound Waves venue inside Hard Rock. Unlike MMA, there's no striking here - only the purest form of combat: grappling.

21 no-gi submission matches are scheduled, headlined by a marquee bout for the inaugural CCFC Light Heavyweight BJJ Championship. Wrestling legend Pat "PD3" Downey brings his explosive, unpredictable style against rising technician Luke Fernandez. Downey, a former NCAA All-American and world freestyle medalist, has taken the grappling world by storm with his aggressive flair. Fernandez, on the other hand, is all patience and precision - exactly the kind of game that can frustrate a brawler like Downey.

The card also includes black belts, brown belts, and top amateurs, with every match fought under submission-only rules and a focus on finishes. It's not a backyard tournament - it's jiu-jitsu dressed for the main stage, complete with walkouts, lighting, and a roaring crowd.

Saturday, July 26 – The Next Generation Takes the Stage

CCFC Next Gen 1 @ Hard Rock's Sound Waves – 6:00 PM

On Saturday, CCFC returns to Sound Waves with a brand-new series aimed at spotlighting the future stars of MMA. Dubbed Next Gen, the promotion's debut installment features multiple amateur title fights, giving top young fighters a platform with pro-level production and real stakes.

While most amateur MMA shows are held in high school gyms or small civic halls, CCFC Next Gen 1 elevates the experience—giving fans a polished, fight-night atmosphere and giving athletes real exposure. Titles on the line include cruiserweight, light heavyweight, and welterweight belts, with fighters drawn from elite regional gyms across the Northeast.

The promotion also offers fighters something rare at the amateur level: travel assistance, lodging, medical coverage, and the chance to compete on a platform that regularly feeds talent into the UFC. For many of these athletes, this night marks the beginning of something much bigger.

Atlantic City: Still a Fight Town

There was a time when boxing royalty walked the Boardwalk like kings. Tyson, Holmes, Gatti - they all fought here. And while the national spotlight may have dimmed, events like this prove the fire never really left. What's happening this weekend isn't just entertainment - it's a revival, powered by promoters who know Atlantic City's legacy and believe in its future.

In one weekend, you can witness a world-title boxing eliminator, a nationally streamed jiu-jitsu championship, and a full slate of future UFC contenders breaking in their gloves for the first time.

Three events. Two nights. One fighting town.

Tickets available at each venue's box office or online. For the true fight fan, this is one weekend you won't want to sit out.

HOROSCOPE

JULY 24 - JULY 30, 2025

ARIES (Mar. 21 - April 20)
You're entering the week with momentum—but watch for burnout if you're pushing too hard. Midweek brings a chance to reassess your pace and priorities. There's no shame in slowing down if it helps you go further. Trust in sustainable effort, not just short-term wins.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Something you've been quietly working on is starting to take shape. Whether it's a relationship, goal, or healing process, your consistency is paying off. Resist the urge to rush the final stages. Steady steps still move mountains.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Your creative energy is back, and you're ready to share ideas that have been brewing behind the scenes. Just make sure your audience is ready too. A playful approach will open more doors than pressure. Lighten up and let things flow.

CANCER (June 22 - July 22)
You're extra sensitive to your surroundings this week—pay attention to what drains you versus what restores you. Boundaries are your best tool, especially at home or with close family. Small shifts in your environment could make a big emotional impact. Make space for what nurtures you.

LEO (July 23 - Aug 22)
It's your season, and the vibe is unmistakably magnetic. This week, your charm works best when paired with generosity and depth. Don't just seek attention—seek meaning. A heartfelt moment could leave a lasting impression.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 23)
You're in prep mode, mentally sorting what needs to stay and what needs to go. This week favors practical decisions that bring emotional peace. A financial or health-related detail could shift your focus. Clear space now so you can move cleanly into what's next.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
You're feeling social—but not just for the sake of mingling. Deeper conversations spark new ideas, and a shared goal may bring surprising synergy. Don't underestimate the power of your presence. You're building something with lasting value.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Professional momentum is picking up, but it's still behind the scenes. Use this week to refine your approach, reconnect with your “why,” and prepare for a stronger push ahead. A mentor or ally may offer key support. Quiet progress is still progress.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 21)
Restlessness returns, but it's not aimless this time—it's calling you to something more expansive. A new experience or big idea could reshape your direction. Don't talk yourself out of dreaming bigger. The leap begins with a question, not a plan.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22 - Jan. 20)
This week brings deeper emotional layers to the surface—especially around trust, vulnerability, and shared resources. A partnership or project may call for a new level of honesty. Don't avoid the hard conversation. What you face now strengthens your foundation.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Relationships are evolving, and you're being asked to show up differently. Let your guard down a little—connection doesn't require control. Midweek offers clarity through dialogue or reflection. Mutual respect is the true glue right now.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar. 20)
You're craving rhythm and routine, even if you don't usually love structure. This is a great week to fine-tune your schedule or health habits. Small changes now will make you feel clearer and stronger. Give yourself the gift of consistency.

RIP CURRENTS

KNOW YOUR OPTIONS

IF CAUGHT IN A RIP CURRENT

- Relax, rip currents don't pull you under.
- Don't swim against the current.
- Swim out of the current, then to shore.
- If you can't escape, float or tread water.
- If you need help, yell or wave for assistance.

Rip currents are powerful currents of water moving away from shore. They can sweep even the strongest swimmer away from shore. If at all possible, swim near a lifeguard.

Stay Safe in the Surf: A Guide to Water Safety at the Jersey Shore

The Jersey Shore is synonymous with summer fun—sunny beach days, refreshing ocean dips, and thrilling surf. But as inviting as the Atlantic Ocean, bays, and inlets may seem, these waters demand respect. Each year, thousands of visitors flock to Atlantic and Cape May Counties to enjoy the shore, and knowing how to stay safe can mean the difference between a great day and a dangerous one.

Respect the Ocean's Power

The ocean at the Jersey Shore can change quickly, with shifting tides, sudden drop-offs, and powerful currents. Rip currents, in particular, pose a significant hazard. Often invisible from shore, these narrow channels of fast-moving water can pull swimmers out beyond the breaking waves. If caught in one, stay calm—don't try to swim directly back to shore. Instead, swim parallel to the beach until you're free of the current, then angle back toward land.

When possible, swim only at guarded beaches. Lifeguards are trained to spot hazards, assist swimmers in distress, and respond quickly in emergencies. Many Jersey Shore towns, including Ocean City, Wildwood, Cape May, Atlantic City, and Brigantine, staff their beaches with lifeguards daily during peak season, typically from Memorial Day through Labor Day.

Know the Conditions

Before heading out, check the day's surf and weather reports. Local news, beach patrol websites, and flag systems provide updates on tide times, rip current risks, jellyfish sightings, and storm advisories. Be especially cautious after storms, when surf conditions can remain rough even if skies are clear.

Additionally, always be aware of boat traffic in bays and inlets, where swimmers, kayakers, and paddleboarders share the water with motorized vessels. Wearing a U.S. Coast Guard-approved life jacket is essential for boating and recommended for inexperienced swimmers in deeper waters.

Supervise Children Closely

Even on calm days, waves can knock over small children or carry them farther out than expected. Stay within arm's reach of young swimmers, and consider outfitting them with brightly colored swimwear or rash guards for visibility. Teach children to recognize lifeguards and seek help if they feel unsafe.

Smart Shore Habits

- Stay sober while swimming or boating. Alcohol impairs judgment, balance, and reaction times.
- Obey posted signs and lifeguard instructions. Many towns prohibit swimming after hours, when no lifeguards are present.
- Don't overestimate your abilities. The ocean is not a pool. If you're not a strong swimmer, stay in shallower water where you can touch bottom.

Enjoy the Water, Respect the Risks

The Jersey Shore's waters offer unforgettable fun but a safe beach day starts with smart choices. By understanding the ocean's power, heeding local guidance, and watching out for one another, visitors can make the most of their time at the shore - keeping memories joyful and worry-free.

HEALTHFUL LIVING

A Weekly Guide to Health Awareness

YOGA POSE OF THE WEEK - Corpse Pose (Savasana)

Most yoga sessions end lying flat on your back in Corpse pose. It's a critical transition between the end of your yoga practice and the rest of your day. Bringing the body to stillness challenges the mind to maintain its calm. You may find this challenging at first, but it gets easier with practice.

CORPSE POSE

TIP

Release any effort from holding your limbs in position. Relax your whole body, even your face.

VITAMIN HIGHLIGHT - Chromium

You only need a trace amount of this mineral, which is believed to help keep your blood sugar levels steady. Most adults easily get enough by eating foods like broccoli, English muffins, and garlic

Ocean City's Night in Venice Celebrates 70 Years with Parade, Fireworks, and Philly Sports Legends

Ocean City's signature summer celebration turns 70 this weekend, and the bayfront is set to shine. The Night in Venice boat parade returns Saturday, July 26, with a full lineup of events before and after, including a themed 5K race, a waterfront concert, decorated home and boat contests, and a fireworks finale over the bay.

This year's parade theme - "70 Years of Champions" - pays tribute to the sports heroes and summer traditions that have defined the region for decades. Leading the parade as grand marshals are three Philadelphia icons:

Bernie Parent is best known as the Hall of Fame goaltender who helped bring home back-to-back Stanley Cup victories for the Flyers in 1974 and 1975. Regarded as one of the greatest goalies in NHL history, he won both the Vezina Trophy and Conn Smythe Trophy in each of those championship seasons. He's also no stranger to the Shore - Parent is a longtime resident of Avalon and a familiar face at community events along the coast.

Vince Papale, a former Philadelphia Eagle, became a household name after walking on to the team in the 1970s with no college football experience. His story inspired the 2006 Disney film Invincible, starring Mark Wahlberg. Papale, a New Jersey native, remains active in the region as a motivational speaker and frequent guest at local fundraisers and youth sports events.

Ruben Amaro Jr. is a former Phillies outfielder and front-office executive who played a key role in building the 2008 World Series championship team. After retiring from baseball operations, he transitioned into broadcasting and is now part of the Phillies' TV booth. Amaro has deep family roots in Philadelphia baseball - his father, Ruben Sr., played short-stop for the Phillies in the 1960s - and remains a dedicated ambassador for the sport across the region.

Rounding out the lineup is Gritty, the high-energy, high-chaos mascot of the Flyers who has become a national pop culture figure. Expect him to be out on the water and in full form, drawing cheers from fans young and old.

The parade begins at 6:30pm, launching near the Ocean City-Longport Bridge and following a course through the back bay lagoons to Tennessee Avenue. Boats will be decorated to match the theme, competing for cash prizes and bragging rights in multiple categories. Meanwhile, bayfront homeowners and condo associations will vie for top honors in the annual decorated house contest, adding color and creativity to the shoreline.

Although many of the parties and gatherings take place dockside, public viewing stands are set up at several street ends along the bay, including 1st Street, 6th, 11th, 13th, 15th, and Tennessee Avenue. For those looking for a more comfortable option, the Bayside Center at 520 Bay Avenue offers ticketed seating for $10 (adults) and $6 (kids), with family activities, food vendors, music, and restrooms on site. Tickets can be purchased through OceanCityVacation.com or in person at the City Hall Welcome Center, Roy Gillian Welcome Center, and Aquatic & Fitness Center while supplies last.

Parking is limited near the route, but free shuttle service begins at 4:00pm from three designated lots: the Ocean City Municipal Airport, the Community Center at 17th Street, and the Tennessee Avenue sports fields. Visitors may also cross the 9th Street Bridge on foot, using the designated pedestrian path - note that chairs and alcohol are not permitted on the bridge walkway.

The celebration begins early Saturday with the Night in Venice 5K Run and 1-Mile Walk, starting at 8:00am at 19th and Haven Avenue. The course is flat and family-friendly, following the Haven Avenue bike path. Participants receive an event t-shirt, and awards will be given to top male and female finishers in several age groups. Online registration is open through RunSignUp.com and costs $35. In-person registration and packet pickup will be available Friday evening from 5-8pm and Saturday morning starting at 6:30am near the start line.

On Friday night, the celebration kicks off at the Ocean City Music Pier with a live concert by Boat House Row, a Philadelphia-based tribute band known for high-energy takes on soft rock hits from the late '70s and early '80s. The group covers artists like Hall & Oates, Christopher Cross, Toto, and Steely Dan - what fans lovingly call "yacht rock." The concert begins at 7:30pm on Friday, July 25. Tickets are $30 for adults and $25 for children and seniors, available through oceancityvacation.com/boxoffice or at the Music Pier box office while supplies last.

The Miss Night in Venice Pageant will also return this year, with local contestants representing area youth programs, organizations, and boating families. The pageant takes place aboard one of the lead boats in the parade, a tradition that dates back decades. Contestants are judged on community involvement, presentation, and spirit. Winners are announced at the conclusion of the parade.

The event concludes with a fireworks display around 9:30pm, launched from a barge near the 9th Street Bridge and visible from most bayfront areas. For many families, it's the biggest weekend of the summer - one that blends pageantry and nostalgia with dock parties, sports pride, and good old-fashioned fun on the water.

From longtime residents decorating their porches to first-time visitors watching from folding chairs along the bay, Night in Venice remains one of the most festive, high-energy traditions anywhere on the Jersey Shore.

Greater Atlantic City Concierge Association's Spotlight:

Dos Caminos

Submitted by: Judy Brenna, GACCA Communications Director
Catering & Events Director, Blue Dog Hospitality Group

What are your must-try items? Aside from our vibrant yet relaxing atmosphere and insanely delicious Mexican cuisine, our Tequila inventory is vast! We offer an extensive collection of Blanco, Anejo, Reposado options, as well as Mezcal, Distinctive, and Cristalino options. Savor any option on their own or in your margarita!

Tell us a little about your history. Dos Caminos was founded by Stephen Hanson and John McDonald, who aimed to create a high-energy Mexican restaurant with a contemporary, urban vibe. The name itself, "Two Roads," is said to refer to both the restaurant's location on Park Avenue and its menu, which blends classic Mexican dishes with modern twists. The original location in the Flat Iron District was praised for its design, which incorporated amber-lit earth tones, semi-private booths, and hand-carved wooden pendants, as well as its lively atmosphere. The restaurant's menu, featuring table-side guacamole, over 100 tequilas, and some on-trend dishes like naked tacos over quinoa pilaf, also contributed to its popularity. After expanding to other locations, including a spot in Times Square, Lexington Avenue, Charlotte, North Carolina, we ventured into the Golden Nugget in Atlantic City. In 2016, BR Guest Hospitality sold to Landry's Inc., owned by Tilman Fertitta. Landry's Inc. owns numerous restaurant and hospitality businesses, including Morton's The Steakhouse and the Golden Nugget casinos.

Do you have any specials you wish to highlight? Serving up a killer brunch, Mexican style, every Sunday from 11 am to 3 pm, you can sip on brunchy margaritas and other cocktails while savoring items like Chilaquiles Verdes, Mexican French Toast, Breakfast Tacos and Quesadillas, Pambazo Burritos, and so much more!

Is there any other important information we should know? Enjoy Dos in the comfort of your own home! We offer pick and delivery for our entire menu! Just go to our website, and with just a few clicks away you'll be shaking your maracas in your living room!

A Shoreline Sleigh Ride: Christmas in July Brings Holiday Cheer to Atlantic City

Atlantic City is getting festive this week—but not with fireworks or flip-flops. From the glow of tiki torches to peppermint martinis served beachside, Christmas in July is taking over the boardwalk from Thursday, July 24 through Sunday, July 27, turning the seaside city into a sun-drenched winter wonderland.

What started as a cheeky cocktail promotion has grown into a full weekend of events—complete with movies, mixology, pool parties, and even a charitable cruise on the bay. Whether you're looking to sip eggnog in a swimsuit, catch a classic holiday movie under the stars, or dance poolside to Christmas remixes until 3 a.m., Atlantic City has wrapped it all up in a neat (red and green) bow.

Tennessee Avenue Goes Full Tinsel - The hub of the action this year is along Tennessee Avenue, where both Bar32 and the Tennessee Avenue Beer Hall are leaning hard into the holiday spirit.

All weekend long, Bar32 will be pouring icy versions of holiday favorites—like chocolate peppermint martinis and frozen spiked eggnog—amid a backdrop of garland, Christmas lights, and tongue-in-cheek tropical décor. Just a few steps away, the Beer Hall will host a free outdoor movie night on Sunday, July 27 at 8 p.m., screening National Lampoon's Christmas Vacation in their beer garden gazebo. Guests are encouraged to wear their best ugly Christmas t-shirts or summer Santa gear. It's open to all ages, but grown-ups can expect themed drink specials and holiday-inspired snacks during the film.

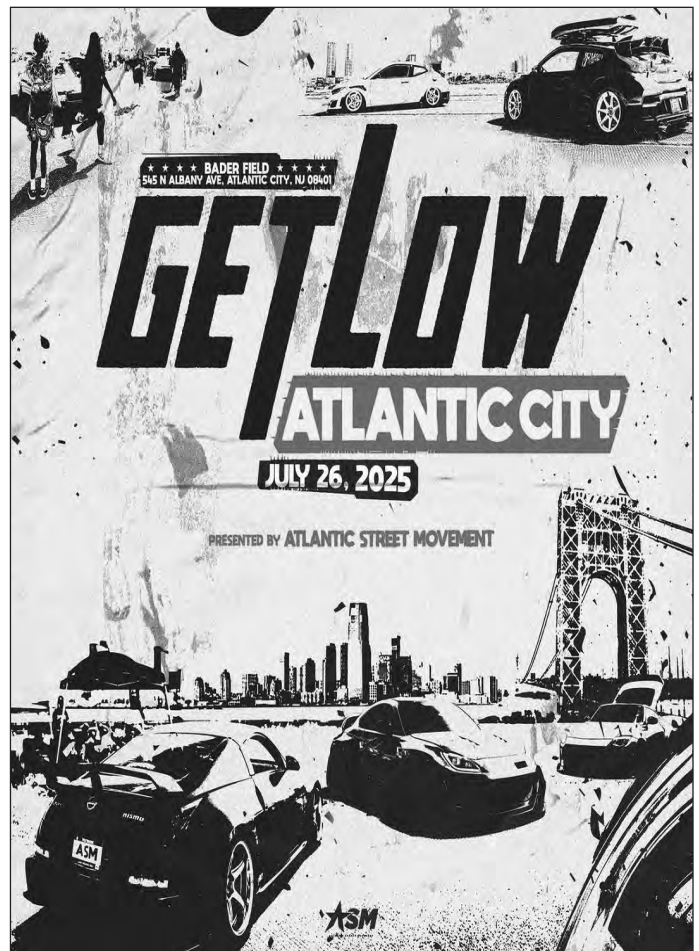

Drink Like a (Sunburned) Elf - On Friday, July 25 at 6:30 p.m., the team from Little Water Distillery will host a special Christmas-in-July Mixology Class at Bottled, the boutique wine and spirits bar inside Ocean Casino Resort. The hands-on class includes instruction in crafting a "7th Birthday Martini" and other seasonal concoctions using Little Water's own locally made spirits. Space is limited, and early RSVPs are encouraged via Ocean's website or event page.

The North Pole Hits the Pool Deck - For those who prefer their holiday spirit with bass drops and bottle service, Harrah's Pool After Dark is throwing a full-blown Christmas in July bash late Friday night. Doors open at 10 p.m. and the party runs through 3 a.m., with DJ YONAH spinning holiday-inspired club tracks beneath the dome. The indoor pool venue will be decked out in winter décor, and partygoers are invited to show up in Christmas-themed swimwear. A portion of proceeds will benefit Toys for Tots, and VIP tables are available for groups looking to go big.

Cruising for a Claus - On Thursday evening, holiday festivities set sail as the Marine Mammal Stranding Center hosts a Christmas in July cruise on the bay. The floating fundraiser offers scenic views, holiday refreshments, and a chance to support local wildlife rescue efforts while enjoying a summer Santa sighting. The cruise is expected to sell out, so advance ticket purchase is highly recommended.

A Jersey Shore Tradition-in-the-Making - While Atlantic City is best known for its summer concerts, casino shows, and sunbathing crowds, Christmas in July has quietly become one of the quirkiest and most anticipated weeks of the season. It's silly, it's self-aware, and it's exactly what a shore town does best—take something traditional, shake it up with a cocktail shaker, and throw a party no one saw coming.

So grab your candy cane shades, dust off your reindeer bikini, and head down the shore—because this weekend, Christmas isn't coming. It's already here.

Jersey Fresh Corn & Peach Summer Salad

- 2 ears sweet corn, kernels cut off
- 2–3 ripe peaches, sliced or wedged
- 1 cup cherry or heirloom tomatoes, halved
- ¼ cup red onion, thinly sliced
- ¼ cup fresh basil, chopped
- 2 Tbsp white balsamic vinegar (or lemon juice)
- 3 Tbsp extra-virgin olive oil
- Salt & pepper, to taste
- Optional: ¼ cup crumbled feta cheese

Combine corn, peaches, tomatoes, onion, and basil in a bowl. Whisk together vinegar and olive oil; drizzle over salad. Toss gently, then season with salt and pepper. Sprinkle feta if using, and serve immediately.

Jersey Fresh Blueberry Margarita

- ½ cup fresh Jersey blueberries (plus extra for garnish)
- 1 ½ oz silver tequila (per drink)
- 1 oz triple sec or Cointreau
- ¾ oz lime juice (fresh)
- ½ oz simple syrup (adjust to taste)
- Ice
- Salt or sugar for rim (optional)
- Lime wedge & mint for garnish

Muddle the blueberries in a shaker until juicy and broken down. Add tequila, triple sec, lime juice, simple syrup, and ice. Shake well, then strain into a salt- or sugar-rimmed glass over fresh ice. Garnish with a few whole blueberries, lime wedge, and mint sprig. Tip: For an extra burst of flavor, add 1 basil leaf to the shaker before shaking. The herbal note complements the blueberries beautifully.

Martha & Higgins

Martha Hoover of Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, first came to The Seeing Eye in 2003 to be matched with a golden retriever named Tessie. She is now working with a golden retriever named Higgins.

Martha works for VisionCorps, a non-profit organization that provides resources to people with vision loss, including employment. Martha is a seamstress making products for use by the U.S. military. When she isn't at work, she's frequently spotted around the county walking with Higgins... she's quite distinctive in her Mennonite dress!

"In my area we have a lot of horses and buggies, so my dogs have to know if there's a horse going past to concentrate on his work," Martha said. "And they all love to go for rides with me in the buggy and watch the horse!"

SEEINGEYE.ORG

This photo shows Martha in a beautiful blue dress and a white bonnet with Higgins, in harness, at a VisionCorps event. Next to them is a sign asking the public not to pet or interfere with a working service dog, which can cause a dangerous distraction.

"You distracting my dog when he's working is like me taking the wheel from you when you're driving. And we both know how that would turn out!" Martha said with a laugh.

PPAWS - People & Puppies at Work for Sight "MEET THE PACK!"

TAKING ON THE BIG APPLE

One of the last adventures a Seeing Eye dog and their instructor have is a trip to New York City. Some Seeing Eye graduates live, work, or frequent busy cities, so our instructors need to understand if this is an environment that the dogs they are training may thrive in.

Instructors already understand their dogs' strengths, but training in New York City allows them to confirm whether their dogs would be up for working in a busy environment like New York.

There is no issue if they are not! Plenty of Seeing Eye graduates live in calmer environments for which these dogs are perfectly suited!

- 1 – A German shepherd in harness smiles and sits in Times Square with bright screens, tall buildings, and pedestrians in the background.
- 2 – A black Lab in harness sits before the Hope sculpture in New York City.
- 3 – A yellow Lab in harness smiles as he sits before the theater entry doors for the Broadway musical The Great Gatsby.

PPAWS (People & Puppies at Work for Sight) is a dedicated group of local families from Atlantic and Cape May Counties, which raise these amazing puppies for The Seeing Eye. Until a Seeing Eye dog is ready for training, he or she lives with a puppy raising or foster family that gives the dog love, gentle guidance, and consistent care. These volunteers nurture their puppy to accomplish its special destiny. If you are interested in raising a puppy for The Seeing Eye, call Peter at (609)804-8774 or visit seeingeye.org/raise for info.

Head Over Heels: Footprints of Love by Nancy Deswik MacCreery - Liza's messy divorce left her with insecurities, a low credit rating, and the perception that she's better off alone. She put her heart and soul into building her shoe start-up, yet she's in dire need of money to expand. After her last-ditch effort to pitch investors falls flat, she meets Monty, who offers to give her some tips. Their schedules are packed, but she finds that he's dreading attending his younger brother's wedding, and she offers to be his fake date so they can talk over the weekend. He just asks her to be low profile, so his family won't like her. She thinks that will be easy, according to her ex, but she can't help herself. After a series of humorous moments and silly situations, Monty and his family fall in love with her. After a surprise visit from her ex, she lets go of her bitterness and realizes there is nothing wrong with the way she is. She can have a relationship with someone who supports her goals, and Monty shows her that he's worth taking a chance on.

Diamond in the Ruff, a Wiggle Butt Manor Mystery by Cindy Goyette - Charlie Calderbank always dreamed of being a cop, but a medical issue forces her out of the academy and to rethink her future. When Charlie's Aunt Jo-Jo suffers injuries in a car accident, she offers to help at her aunt's pet hotel. When the owner of Maya, a precocious mutt, is murdered, Jo-Jo becomes a suspect, forcing Charlie to find the real killer before they put her aunt away for good. While Charlie rushes to hide clues that point to her aunt, she tries to wrangle Maya into control. But she, too, seems eager to solve the case and doesn't follow the rules. Charlie's quest leads her to uncover plenty of the small town's secrets, and to fall for the hot local cop trying to find the killer. It also puts her on the radar of the murderer, who will do anything to protect their secret, including making Charlie the next victim.

Inherited Death by Jeanne Rietzke - A dysfunctional southern family stumbles into a raucous murder and huge fortune while eating, drinking and cursing their way through New Orleans. If you enjoy art history, food history, World War II history, and characters layered like the pastries they eat, this is your novel!

Don't Drop Dad by Dena Polko - Angie Donatello is about to realize her dream of opening an Italian bakery in her quaint Maine village when her widowed father receives a life-altering diagnosis. She is determined to care for him and keep her opening on schedule, but there doesn't seem to be enough time, wine or cannoli to manage the competing demands and the emotional tsunamis threatening to pull her under. Equipment delays, a kitchen fire, and an over-the-top class mom all further complicate Angie's life, but she still seems to be holding things together ... until she hosts the traditional Italian Feast of the Seven Fishes on Christmas Eve and her father's very new and much younger girlfriend makes a startling announcement. Now, Angie not only needs to help her dad cope with his declining health but also needs to find a way to protect his heart — and his pockets — without losing her own shot at a lifelong dream.

My Year of Casual Acquaintances by Ruth F. Stevens - When Mar's husband divorces her for another woman, she reacts by abandoning everything: her home, her friends, even her name. Though it's not easy starting over at 50, Mar is young-looking and ready for adventures — provided she can keep things casual. Each month, she goes from one acquaintance to the next: a gym member down on her luck, a flirty hip-hop instructor, a bossy but comical consultant ... and Charlie, a handsome best-selling novelist who wants more from Mar than she's able to give. She learns something from each encounter. But can she change enough to open herself up to happiness? Surrounded by an ensemble of quirky, endearing characters, Mar navigates her new life in a story packed with laugh-out-loud moments mingled with themes of loss, loneliness and the value of human connection. Winner of 5 literary awards, including Best Contemporary Book of 2024.

A Change of Location by Margaret Porter - A lighthearted rom-com mismatching a work-focused American film location scout with an eccentric and charming English aristocrat. This highly praised novel offers humor, banter and strong female friendship, shadowed by lingering parental strife and damaging secrets — intentional or unintended. The fiercely independent protagonist, and the reader, are swept into a Downton Abbey-esque setting in the Somerset countryside, where she savors the enticing potential of a romantic partnership. But Hannah knows that if her summertime fling with Martin gets serious, the inevitable publicity will harm the family members from whom she's estranged.

WHEN PHILLY PLAYS FOR KEEPS

A Wild Walk-Off, a Quiet Comeback, and the City That Never Sleeps on Sports

By late July, the sports world often naps in the haze between baseball's dog days and the first snap of NFL preseason. But in Philadelphia, this week proved there's no such thing as an offseason when the stakes - and the storylines - are this high.

THE RULE YOU'VE NEVER SEEN - AND MAY NEVER SEE AGAIN

On Monday, July 22, the Phillies pulled off a win so rare that most fans at Citizens Bank Park didn't even realize it was possible. In the bottom of the 10th inning against the Red Sox, with the bases loaded and two outs, Edmundo Sosa checked his swing - barely. But his bat clipped the mitt of Red Sox catcher Connor Wong, violating MLB Rule 6.01(c): catcher's interference.

The play initially went unnoticed. Red Sox fans began celebrating what they thought was a routine third out. But Phillies manager Rob Thomson challenged the call, and after a brief review, umpires reversed the ruling. Just like that, Brandon Marsh was awarded home plate. The Phillies walked it off, 3-2, without the ball ever leaving Sosa's bat.

Not since 1971 had a Major League game ended on that call. That one - between the Yankees and Senators - faded into trivia lore. This one became a highlight reel almost no one saw coming. Phillies players poured onto the field, confused at first, then euphoric once the reality set in: they'd won on a rule so obscure even some pros needed a postgame refresher.

The moment was quirky, no doubt - but fitting. This year's Phillies team is opportunistic, fundamentally sharp, and as comfortable grinding out a low-scoring win as they are launching back-to-back homers. With a record that has them firmly in the NL East hunt and the pitching staff finding its late-summer form, these are the kinds of games that make "Red October" feel less like a dream and more like a plan.

EAGLES CAMP: RELOADING, NOT REBUILDING

Just across Pattison Avenue, the Eagles kicked off their first full week of training camp at NovaCare with none of the drama or dysfunction that tends to define NFL storylines in July - and that's exactly how head coach Nick Sirianni wants it.

Quarterback Jalen Hurts has kept his offseason businesslike. The newly extended franchise QB has been the quiet center of an operation built on confidence and chemistry. He's not just running drills; he's setting the tone.

This week, the team added veteran pass rusher Ogbo Okoronkwo, a savvy move to bolster an already dangerous front. At the same time, they waived RB Lew Nichols and DL K.J. Henry - small names, maybe, but a clear sign that even the bottom of the roster is under pressure. Competition is tight. Standards are high.

And the defense? It's younger, faster, and quietly drawing league-wide attention. Pro Football Focus ranked the Eagles' secondary 8th in the NFL, thanks to the return of stars like Darius Slay and the injection of rookie energy from Cooper DeJean, Quinyon Mitchell, and a healthy Sydney Brown. Together, they give defensive coordinator Vic Fangio a deeper, more versatile lineup than the patchwork crew that struggled late last season.

Even players outside the NFC East are watching. Rams defensive lineman Kobie Turner told reporters this week that the Eagles are already circled on his calendar. "That's the team to beat," he said, referencing not just Philly's dominant O-line, but new addition Saquon Barkley - a rare divisional flip who could redefine the Birds' backfield if healthy.

A PHILADELPHIA STATE OF MIND

What connects these two stories - baseball's weirdest walk-off and a championship-caliber football team quietly sharpening its knives - isn't just geography. It's a mindset.

Philly doesn't need a headline to be relevant. It doesn't crave chaos. This is a sports town built on sharp eyes and steady nerves. The Phillies didn't panic in the 10th - they waited for a rule to break their way. The Eagles didn't blow up the roster - they made tweaks, added depth, and kept their core intact.

In the process, they reminded fans that July isn't just for beach chairs and vacation-mode. It's when real contenders stay ready. While other cities coast through the offseason, Philadelphia is already playing for keeps.

AN UPDATE ON EBBY'S RECUPERATION FROM ACL SURGERY

Submitted By Patsy Nelson
from The Wagging Tail

Bob and I just returned from a two-week vacation that was planned a year ago. Ebby, our 8-year-old rescue (August will mark four years with us) had to have patella luxation surgery on her knee in December. It is very common for dogs who have knee surgery to later incur a completely torn ACL (also known as the cranial cruciate ligament or CrCL). And that is what Ebby did in June. Our neighbors who moved in in 2024 and have three dogs, butted their fenced-in yard partly against our existing privacy fence. Ebby, I had been told by people who knew her in the Villas, had a history of running and barking at everyone and every dog that she could see from her cyclone fenced yard. The years of doing that before I took her in, I'm certain caused some degeneration in her joints. Privacy fences often have a very slight opening between the panels, and Ebby could see the dogs behind it, and she would jump at them like a maniac. Bob cut thin boards and placed them in the cracks and that helped a bit. Obviously not enough.

I was hoping to delay surgery until around the 21st of July when we would be home. But I was advised that that was too long to wait considering her discomfort. I opted to have her teeth cleaned at the same time, as she won't let me put my fingers in her mouth (except when playing) and I have not been able to apply dental gel like I do with Zoey. Her operation was on July 2, and we left on July 6th. It was a stressful few days with my dismay at her pain, both with the fact that she had an incisor extracted (almost three inches long) plus her ACL. I had to take her back before I left for another pain shot. My pet sitter and I stayed in touch as much as possible and she kept in touch with the professionals involved. Every possible measure was taken to ensure protection of her surgical area and eliminating her going up and down steps and on sofas. Ebby seemed to have the sense to keep that back leg elevated when she moved around. As of July 23, today, she still does not put much pressure on her leg, and once she was able to remove her puffy soft post operative collar, we left it off. I will see the doctor tomorrow morning when Zoey and Ebby get their monthly Addison shots and will know if I can start taking Ebby in the pool for physical therapy. I read that there are range of motion exercises to do with ACL post-op but it is doubtful that Ebby would let me. If necessary, I will muzzle her (she is not mean, just reactive if she feels threatened). I got a 3-step wide set of stairs for my high bed which has made it possible for even Zoey to get up and down without me lifting her, which she is very excited about.

Based on the dog's size-Ebby's only twenty pounds-age (she is eight) and extent of tear (Ebby's was extensive), recovery can take three or more weeks, or even months. The treatments for both her knee, ACL, and teeth, and Addison's diagnosis and treatments, have now cost nearly eight thousand dollars! A very expensive rescue dog that we love.

Thank you for helping to keep a 38-year-old business in business. Come visit our cats.

Doggie S'mores

These doggie S'mores are a delicious and safe BBQ treat for your pooch to enjoy all summer long. Rather than using chocolate (which is toxic for dogs!) you can use carob which is similar to chocolate in taste and texture. Carob contains many healthy nutrients and can even help flush toxins from your dog's body.

Ingredients:

Dog biscuits
1 cup of carob chips or 1 tablespoon of carob powder
1 cup of plain or Greek yogurt

Method:

Throw your carob chips into a bowl and melt over boiled water. If you're using carob powder, mix your powder directly into yogurt.
Dip one side of your doggie biscuit into the carob mixture and place onto a tray.
Place another biscuit on top to make a sandwich and repeat.
Pop your tray into the freezer to harden and serve.

There's no ticket, no dress code, and no bad seat if you show up prepared. South Jersey's weekly summer concert scene - stretching from Somers Point to the Ventnor bay to the Atlantic City Boardwalk - offers some of the best live music in the state, and it won't cost you a dime. But showing up unprepared? That could cost you your patience. From parking to packing, here's how to do these concerts right.

Let's start in Ventnor, where not one but two concert series run weekly during the summer. The first is staged bayside at Ski Beach, just off Dorset and Burk Avenues. This setting is quieter, a little more low-key, and prone to some of the best sunsets you'll see all summer. There's a small parking lot at the venue, but it fills fast - most people wind up grabbing free street parking nearby and walking in. Don't leave your bug spray in the car; the bayfront location practically demands it once the sun dips. You'll want to bring a chair - the folding kind, not a soft beach one that sinks into the grass - and maybe a hoodie or light blanket for the breeze. Some nights you'll find food trucks, but not always, so picking up takeout beforehand or packing a cooler with snacks and drinks is a smart move.

Just a few blocks over, the Newport Avenue concert series puts the stage on the ocean side, drawing bigger crowds and a beachier vibe. This one feels more like a neighborhood block party - with families, couples, and groups of friends toting chairs and setting up early on the lawn in front of the library. Parking can be a little tight on concert nights, but Atlantic Avenue and its side streets usually have open spots if you're not too close to start time. Ventnor does enforce parking rules, so watch the signage and don't block driveways. The shows often feature big-name tribute acts and local legends, so if you want a good spot close to the stage, you'll need to show up early. And don't forget, you're just a block off the Boardwalk - perfect for an after-show stroll.

In Atlantic City, the music gets louder and the crowds get bigger. Two concert series take over Kennedy Plaza each week, right between Boardwalk Hall and the ocean. The Mardi Gras series, known for high-energy performances and dancing crowds, fills the plaza midweek with a festival-like feel. The Chicken Bone Beach Jazz series takes over later in the week with nationally known jazz performers and a more relaxed, sit-and-listen kind of energy. Either way, it's smart to park in one of the casino garages - Bally's or Caesars are your best bets - if you don't want to circle Pacific Avenue for a metered space. You'll be walking at least a couple blocks to get to the Plaza, so pack light. Bring a sturdy folding chair for the paved seating area, sunscreen for early-evening sun, and cash if you want to grab a snack or drink from one of the Boardwalk vendors.

Just a few blocks north, the city's Gardner's Basin concerts offer a completely different vibe - more afternoon than evening, more lawn than concrete. The free lot at the Basin tends to fill early, especially on nice weekends, but there's often room nearby on side streets. This is the spot to bring a cooler, grab a spot on the grass, and settle in for the day. Shows usually feature multiple acts, so plan to stay awhile. Pack sunscreen, a chair or picnic blanket, and maybe an umbrella for shade if you're there for the long haul.

Down the road in Somers Point, the beloved Friday night series at Kennedy Park is a tradition for locals and summer regulars alike. The venue, also known as William Morrow Beach, offers a sweeping bay view and plenty of space, but parking is still a challenge. The small on-site lot fills fast, and by 6:30 p.m., most people are lining the side streets along Bay Avenue. There's also a public lot across from Gregory's Bar that's an easy walk. This is very much a bring-your-own-everything kind of event: folding chairs, coolers, snacks, bug spray, and maybe even your own table setup if you're feeling fancy. It's informal but organized, with food trucks often parked near the entrance and regulars claiming the same patch of grass week after week. If you're new, show up early and follow the crowd.

Every one of these concerts is free, but the experience you have depends on how well you plan. Show up without a chair, a sweater, or a parking strategy, and you'll learn the hard way. But bring what you need, find your spot, and let the music take it from there - and you'll wonder why you ever paid for lawn seats in the first place.
