CRANBERRY HEALTH

Cranberries are rich in antioxidants, such as proanthocyanidins, which protect cells from damage caused by free radicals. This helps reduce inflammation and improve overall health. Cranberries contain proanthocyanidins that prevent bacteria from adhering to the bladder walls, reducing the risk of UTIs.

Cranberries are a good source of fiber, which promotes healthy digestion. They also contain prebiotics that nourish beneficial gut bacteria. Cranberries contain antioxidants that may help lower blood pressure and cholesterol levels, reducing the risk of heart disease.

Cranberries are a good source of vitamin C, which supports a strong immune system. They also contain antioxidants that may help fight off infections. Some studies suggest that cranberries may have anti-cancer properties due to their antioxidant content. However, more research is needed.

It's important to note that the health benefits of cranberries may vary depending on the type of cranberry (fresh, dried, juice) and the amount consumed. Consulting a nutritionist professional for personalized advice on incorporating cranberries into your diet.

National Guide Dog Month is observed throughout September, celebrating the extraordinary work of guide dogs and the profound independence they provide. This month-long initiative raises crucial awareness and support for the rigorous training and care these animals receive. Join us in recognizing their dedication, supporting guide dog schools, and advocating for accessibility.

National Guide Dog Month Hero - Dorothy Harrison Eustis

Dorothy Harrison Eustis (1886–1946) was an American dog breeder and philanthropist who founded The Seeing Eye, the first guide dog school in the United States. Inspired by the work of German shepherd dogs assisting blinded veterans in Germany, she brought the concept to America, revolutionizing mobility for the visually impaired. Her pioneering efforts laid the foundation for guide dog training worldwide.

History of National Guide Dog Month

Dogs have been domesticated for around 150,000 years and have been coexisting with humans since back then. Ancient artifacts and scrolls show instances where dogs were guiding their human companions. The first attempt to train guide dogs was in Paris at the 'Les Quinze-Vingts' hospital for the blind. The founder of the Institute for the Education of the Blind 'Blinden-Erziehungs-Institut' in Vienna, Johann Wilhelm Klein, wrote about guide dogs in his book published in 1819. This provides evidence that dogs have been helping humans for a long period.

After the First World War, when many soldiers came back blind, the use of guide dogs peaked. The demand for this service prompted the opening of the first school for guide dogs in Oldenburg, Germany. Dog trainer Dorothy Harrison Eustis is attributed with bringing the first guide dog to America, and Eustis later established the 'Seeing Eye School' in Morristown, New Jersey.

Dick Van Patten was the inspiration behind National Guide Dog Month. He admired the ability of these dogs to improve the standards of life for those living with blindness but he was also aware of the time, energy, and cost that went into training these dogs. He decided to take action and raise awareness and monetary support for guide dog schools. Van Patten owned a pet food company that underwrote all costs for the promotion of National Guide Dog Month. The first guide dog fundraiser was in Southern California with the support of the Petco Foundation. Thanks to Van Patten's effort, many guide dog organizations have now become beneficiaries of these month-long events.

NATIONAL GUIDE DOG MONTH ACTIVITIES

- Support a Guide Dog Organization - Guide dogs require extensive training, veterinary care, food and ongoing support throughout their working lives. Consider making a donation to a reputable guide dog organization or sponsoring a puppy in training. Even a small contribution can help provide the resources needed to prepare a dog for its future career.

- Learn Before You Meet a Working Dog - One of the best ways to support guide dogs is simply to understand how to interact with them. When a guide dog is wearing its harness, it is working. Resist the urge to pet, call to or distract the dog - even if it looks incredibly friendly. Giving the team space allows the dog to concentrate on keeping its handler safe.

- Celebrate the Dogs in Your Life - National Guide Dog Month is also a perfect excuse to appreciate your own four-legged companions. Take your dog for a special walk, try a new enrichment activity, donate supplies to an animal shelter or simply spend some extra time together. Just remember: working guide dogs have an important job, and their role goes far beyond being a beloved pet.

5 FASCINATING FACTS ABOUT GUIDE DOGS

- 1 - They Don't Just Follow Commands - A guide dog is trained to make decisions, not simply walk wherever its handler tells it to go. One of the most remarkable skills is intelligent disobedience - refusing a command when following it could put the handler in danger, such as moving into traffic.

- 2 - The First Guide Dog Partnership Began With a Leap of Faith - Morris Frank was just 19 when he wrote to Dorothy Harrison Eustis, an American living in Switzerland who was breeding and training German shepherds. Eustis agreed to help him learn to work with a guide dog. Frank traveled to Switzerland in 1928, where he trained with Kiss, whom he renamed Buddy. When the pair returned to America, they crossed New York City's busy West Street in front of skeptical reporters. Frank's one-word telegram to Eustis afterward was simply: "SUCCESS."

- 3 - The Harness Means "I'm Working" - That familiar harness isn't just equipment - it is a signal that the dog is on duty. A guide dog needs to remain focused on its handler, which is why petting, feeding or distracting one while it is working can interfere with its job.

- 4 - Labradors Are Popular for a Reason - Labrador Retrievers are among the breeds commonly selected for guide work because of their temperament, trainability and ability to work closely with people. Golden Retrievers and German Shepherds have also historically been used as guide dogs.

- 5 - The Dogs Have a Career - and Then a Retirement - Guide dogs eventually retire from working, just as people retire from a career. The timing depends on the individual dog's health, ability and circumstances rather than an arbitrary birthday. When a dog retires, the handler and the guide-dog organization determine the best living arrangement, which may mean remaining with the handler or moving to another loving home. After years of responsibility, retirement is the dog's opportunity to enjoy life at a much slower pace.

HEAVENLYREZ NAMED THE NO. 1 PROPERTY MANAGEMENT COMPANY IN THE UNITED STATES

Ocean City couple's company tops AirDNA's 2026 national rankings in a field decided entirely by what guests said, in the same year they became Amazon best selling authors

HeavenlyRez, the Ocean City vacation rental management company founded by Kim and Steve Resnick, has been named the No. 1 property management company in the United States in AirDNA's 2026 national rankings. AirDNA, the short-term rental industry's leading data and analytics firm, ranked every professional short-term rental manager in the country on a single measure: what their guests actually said about them. HeavenlyRez finished first, ahead of operators in Florida, Colorado, Mississippi and other long-established vacation markets. It is a distinction with no marketing budget behind it and no application to fill out. There is no way to lobby for it. The only way onto the list is one guest at a time.

The Resnicks watched the countdown from their office conference room right across the bridge from Ocean City, their team joined by video from across New Jersey and, in one case, from a vacation in Hong Kong. "After the sixth spot was announced, I smiled at him and said, 'We're top five,'" Kim Resnick said. "We would have been thrilled to get the number two spot. But when we weren't announced as number two, we held our breath and waited for the name HeavenlyRez to be announced." When it was, the couple hugged and Kim cried. "It was a great celebration for the HeavenlyRez family," she said.

From three OCNJ beach houses to more than 110

The Resnicks, married more than 30 years, began managing a handful of their own Ocean City properties in 2015. They found they liked the work, and they liked watching families build the kind of shore memories they had built themselves. In 2020 they sold one of those properties. The buyers asked them to stay on and manage it. That request became a company. HeavenlyRez grew from three properties to 12 largely by word of mouth among owners. In 2023 Steve Resnick left more than 20 years in technology program management at the largest financial company in the United States to run it full time. The couple set a goal of 120 properties by the end of 2026 and now manage more than 110, ahead of schedule. "We are on target to beat that goal soon," Kim Resnick said. "We are very proud of our hard work and our team pushing through to reach our goals."

What earns 2,000 five-star reviews

HeavenlyRez has collected more than 2,000 five-star reviews and answers guests in less than six and a half minutes, around the clock. Its services run well past handing over a key: full linens, a concierge store that stocks the refrigerator before arrival, golf cart rentals, private chefs, luggage service and beach caddy setups on the sand. Every stay is turned over under a three-point certification the company built itself, covering linens/consumables, cleaning and an independent third-party inspection before the next guest arrives. Operations run out of the 5,800 square foot HeavenlyRez Hospitality Hub in nearby Somers Point, staffed by a team of more than 20 handling guest communication, maintenance, linens and concierge service.

The Resnicks are deliberate about the distinction. Most vacation rental managers in Ocean City are traditional real estate offices that also handle rentals. HeavenlyRez was built as a hospitality company from the first day. "Our focus is always hospitality first, for owners and for guests," Kim Resnick said. "Nobody gives you a national ranking for a good pitch deck. This one is decided by families who paid their own money, stayed in our homes and then said what they thought. That is the only scoreboard we have ever trusted." - Steve Resnick, Co-Founder and CEO, HeavenlyRez. "I walked away from a 20-year corporate career in 2023 because I believed this company could be the best in the country at what it does. Finding out we actually are, with our whole team on the call, is not something I will forget." - Steve Resnick, Co-Founder and CEO, HeavenlyRez

Best selling authors in the same year

The ranking caps a year in which the Resnicks also became Amazon best selling authors. Their chapter, Never Let a Good Crisis Go to Waste, appears in Hospitable Hosts: Couples Edition, which launched on Valentine's Day 2026. All royalties from their contribution during the book's first 12 months are being donated to the United Leukodystrophy Foundation. The choice is personal. The company's name honors the couple's late daughter, Ashley. Heavenly is for her. Rez is short for reservations, and a longtime nickname for Steve. "The name is not a marketing decision. It is a promise we made, and it is on every door we manage. When people ask what HeavenlyRez means, they usually get more of an answer than they expected." - Steve Resnick, Co-Founder and CEO, HeavenlyRez

A win for the island

The national ranking follows AirDNA naming HeavenlyRez the top property management company in the Ocean City and Atlantic City market in 2025. For a company built entirely on one eight-mile barrier island, competing against operators in far larger markets, the Resnicks say the address is the point. "It is an honor to represent Ocean City," Kim Resnick said. "We are not a national brand that parachuted into a beach town. We live here, and every one of these homes belongs to a neighbor or an owner who trusted us with it. Ocean City is not a market to us. It is the whole company." - Steve Resnick, Co-Founder and CEO, HeavenlyRez. Asked what comes next, Kim Resnick said the company is only beginning. "The sky is the limit for HeavenlyRez," she said. "We have just gotten started at growing this company to its fullest potential." She added that the company remains grateful to the Ocean City community, its property owners, guests and employees. "We are grateful to God for all of these amazing blessings and look forward to growing our HeavenlyRez family year after year."

"We don't just manage vacation rentals — we set the standard for what modern hospitality in Ocean City can be."

HEALTHFUL LIVING

A Weekly Guide to Health Awareness

YOGA POSE OF THE WEEK - Seated Wide Angle Straddle (Upavistha Konasana)

Opening your legs wide creates a slightly different stretch from Paschimottanasana. To do this yoga pose:

Separate your legs into a wide position. Flex both feet and engage both legs on the floor, coming into Upavistha Konasana. Forward bend to the center, extending your spine on inhale and deepening the yoga pose on exhale.

Though it may look like the mandate is to bring your chest to the floor, it's not about that. Instead, keep your back flat, rotate your pelvis forward instead of crunching through your spine, and keep your feet flexed. If you do all three of these things, it doesn't matter how far forward you lean.

WIDE ANGLE STRADDLE

TIP

As you move into the forward bend, make sure to keep your knee caps pointing toward the ceiling.

VITAMIN HIGHLIGHT - Vitamin B2 (Riboflavin)

You could get enough for the day from a good breakfast! It's added to many fortified breads and grain products and also found naturally in eggs, asparagus and other green veggies, and milk. Your cells need it to work right, and it might help prevent migraines.

Greater Atlantic City Concierge Association's Spotlight: Local Summer Across Atlantic County

Submitted by: Krista Baum,
President, Greater Atlantic City Concierge Association

Labor Day may end the traditional summer season, but for those of us who live and work in Atlantic County, it begins another. The school buses return, the Garden State Parkway clears and the pace finally eases. After a summer spent helping visitors decide where to stay, eat and explore, those of us who work in tourism and hospitality have time to enjoy the places we recommend.

This was a big summer. Journey and Shakira performed at Jim Whelan Boardwalk Hall, while casino venues welcomed Keith Urban, The Chicks, Nick Jonas, Diana Ross, Demi Lovato and Nikki Glaser. FIFA World Cup watch parties filled sportsbooks, bars and restaurants. New businesses opened, longtime favorites stayed busy and investment continued throughout the county.

Then RÜFÜS DU SOL drew about 35,000 fans to a sold-out concert on the Atlantic City beach, with thousands more gathering along the Boardwalk. The show brought a much-needed jolt to the city and reminded us what large-scale beach concerts can do for Atlantic City. It was a fitting end to summer and an exciting glimpse of what could be ahead.

Now comes the season many locals wait for all year. The ocean is still warm, reservations are easier to find, and the fall calendar is full.

The shows continue

The Atlantic City Jazz Fest returns to Hard Rock Hotel & Casino Sept. 11-13. The lineup includes Kirk Whalum, Norman Brown, Maysa and other noted jazz artists, followed by a Sunday brunch. Phish comes to Jim Whelan Boardwalk Hall for three nights, Oct. 2-4. The Atlantic City Comedy Festival follows Oct. 9-10. Casino theaters and lounges will continue hosting entertainment throughout the fall. Football will keep the sportsbooks busy, while businesses along Tennessee Avenue offer watch parties, live music and neighborhood events in a more casual setting.

Stay close to the water

September often brings the best beach weather of the year. The water is warm, the air is cooler and there is room to spread out. Atlantic City's beaches remain free, while Brigantine, Ventnor, Margate and Longport no longer require beach badges after mid-September. Take a walk, ride a bike on the Boardwalk or simply by the water without the summer crowds.

On Sunday, Sept. 20, the Brigantine Beach Chamber of Commerce will host an Eagles Tailgate on the Beach when the Philadelphia Eagles take on the Tennessee Titans.

Make a weekend of the festivals

Sept. 19 will be busy across the county. The Atlantic City Latino Festival takes place at Bader Field, the Downbeach Seafood Festival returns to Ski Beach in Ventnor and the 48 Blocks Festival comes to Atlantic City's Inlet. Margate Fall Funfest by the Bay follows Sept. 26-27 with food, live music, crafts, children's activities and more than 110 booths along Amherst Avenue. Historic Smithville's Oktoberfest comes to Galloway Township Oct. 3-4 with more than 150 juried crafters, an international food court, children's activities, train and carousel rides and paddleboats. Dog owners should save Oct. 10 for the Marine Mammal Stranding Center's 6th Annual Pup Strut. The one-mile beach walk begins at 16th Street in Brigantine and includes music, pet-friendly vendors and activities about protecting marine mammals along our coast.

Head inland for fall traditions

In Hammonton, The Red Barn Farm holds its Sunflower and Fall Festival every Friday, Saturday and Sunday through Nov. 1. The family-owned farm, built around a 120-year-old barn, has a nearly 10-acre corn maze, hayrides, a pumpkin patch, sunflower fields, games, food and live music. Flashlight maze nights begin in October. In Egg Harbor Township, Storybook Land's Fall Into Fun Festival adds hayrides, a pumpkin patch, a hay maze and seasonal treats to the park's traditional rides and storybook attractions.

Slow down for the day Cooler weather makes fall a great time to play a round at Harbor Pines Golf Club in Egg Harbor Township. At Lake Lenape Park in Mays Landing, spend the day hiking, fishing, kayaking, canoeing or picnicking by the water. Birch Grove Park in Northfield and the Atlantic County Bikeway offer more ways to get outside.

Wherever the day takes you, make a local business part of it. Try the restaurant that was impossible to get into in July. Visit a winery near Hammonton or Egg Harbor City. Have lunch along the bay, explore Historic Smithville or spend an evening on Tennessee Avenue.

Better Breakfast Month inspires Americans to embrace a nutritious start throughout September. Prioritize your well-being with balanced meals that boost energy and focus. Discover quick, healthy recipes, explore nutrient-rich ingredients, and make mindful choices to fuel your day.

Better Breakfast Month Hero - Dr. John Harvey Kellogg

Dr. John Harvey Kellogg (1852-1943) was an American physician, nutritionist, and health activist who advocated for vegetarianism and healthy living. As the superintendent of the Battle Creek Sanitarium, he was a pioneer in promoting the importance of breakfast cereals and wholesome morning meals as part of a healthy lifestyle.

How to Observe Better Breakfast Month

- Take a food nutrition course - Whether you prefer online learning or attending classes in person, there's a strong chance you'll be able to find an interesting course that will teach you how to prepare healthy and delicious breakfast dishes. What a perfect way to kick off Better Breakfast Month!
- Treat yourself to breakfast out - Many restaurants offer light, nutritious breakfast options. So, while passing on the chocolate chip pancakes and cream cheese stuffed French toast may require a little willpower, we're confident you'll still be able to find an option that will satisfy nearly any craving — and will get your day off to a great start.
- Create a meal plan - Eating a nutritious breakfast doesn't just happen on accident. For at least one week during Better Breakfast Month, make it a point to plan them out in advance. Knowing what nutritious foods you will be eating throughout the week will help to eliminate any secret sugar-packed breakfast splurges.

THREE BRIDGES

4 Healthy Breakfast Secrets

- 1 - Healthy breakfast, healthy kids - Research shows that kids who eat breakfast generally have healthier weights and perform better on memory tests than those who don't.
- 2 - Germany wins - The largest breakfast ever recorded took place in Germany in 2005. Nearly 28,000 people took part.
- 3 - Patience, please - The first breakfast cereal needed to be soaked overnight before it could be enjoyed.
- 4 - Don't forget - Americans tend to skip breakfast more often than other meals. Better Breakfast Month reminds us to make time for what just might be the most important meal of the day.

Why Better Breakfast Month is Important

- Eating a healthy breakfast helps control your weight - September's the perfect time to adopt healthy eating habits in order to avoid adding pounds during the upcoming winter months. Many studies have linked eating a nutritious breakfast to having an easier time maintaining a healthy weight. Eating delicious food to stay slim? Count us in!
- It helps you fit in all of your daily nutrients - Dietary guidelines can be intimidating, especially when you're just relying on lunch and dinner to supply the bulk of your nutritional benefits. Eating a healthy breakfast can help you squeeze in some of those necessary vitamins and minerals which are needed to keep your body functioning at its highest possible level.
- Breakfast is delicious - Not only does a well-rounded breakfast supply a ton of physical benefits, but it also tastes good.

ATLANTIC COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL

★ SEPTEMBER 2026 ★

FRIDAY NIGHT LIGHTS ARE BACK

The Friday Night Lights are back, and Atlantic County's high school football season is already off to an exciting start! Twelve of thirteen Atlantic County teams took the field during the opening weekend, combining for 6 wins and 6 losses, while Cedar Creek will make its season debut on September 3rd.

Mainland Regional opened with a dramatic 7-6 comeback over Pleasantville, with Lucas DiBiao scoring the go-ahead touchdown in the fourth quarter before Landon Meade added the winning extra point. Oakcrest shut out Highland Regional, 18-0, after taking a 2-0 lead on a safety before the first touchdown of the season. Egg Harbor Township opened with a 35-0 shutout of Robbinsville, and St. Augustine Prep supplied one of the weekend's biggest comebacks, rallying to defeat Pennsylvania's Monsignor Bonner/Archbishop Prendergast Catholic, 24-20.

The losses were even competitive in some cases. Atlantic City fell to Shabazz, 32-19, after leading early, while Buena dropped a 23-22 decision to New Egypt. Absegami lost to Barnegat, 26-0; Holy Spirit fell to Monsignor Farrell, 28-14; and St Joseph opened with a 39-7 loss to Conwell-Egan Catholic.

Now the season moves into September, with four more weeks of football, plenty of local rivalries and a full slate of games for fans to follow!
